Heavy Fighting Continues In Viet

SAIGON (AP) — The Viet Cong's spring offensive ripped into South Vietnam's northern sector today as big enemy rockets slammed into a Da Nang shantytown and ground troops made heavy attacks on U.S. and South Vietnamese forces guarding the nation's second largest city.

The U.S. Command also reported that the massive counter offensive by more than 10,000 American troops northwest of Saigon had killed 123 North Vietnamese soldiers Tuesday in its first day of operations. One American was killed and 23 wounded, the command said, indicating most of the attacks on the enemy were by planes and artillery.

AP Correspondent John T. Wheeler reported from Da Nang that 13 Vietnamese civilians were killed and 21 were wounded when ten 100-pound rockets exploded in the slum neighborhood around a Navy pier before dawn. It was the highest civilian toll in the four times Da Nang has been shelled since the enemy's spring offensive started Feb. 23.

A South Korean civilian working for the U.S. Navy also was killed, and three U.S. Marines were wounded.

Americans Kill 123 Reds

Twenty miles south of Da Nang, 400 North Vietnamese troops laid down a mortar barrage on a U.S. Marine night camp, then stormed the camp with flamethrowers, machine guns, rocket-propelled grenades and small arms.

The Marines fired their artillery point-blank into the charging enemy troops and reported killing 72 of them, but the fight also took the lives of 12 Americans and 30 were wounded.

Wheeler reported that two of the North Vietnamese broke through the Marine lines and ran into a mess hall carrying flame throwers. They killed two Marines but were cut down before they could light their flame throwers.

Military spokesmen said the enemy also made several other coordinated but unsuccessful ground attacks south of Da Nang about 2 a.m. In one of them, South Vietnamese rangers and infantrymen threw back an assault on Dien Ban, a key district capital 15 miles south of Da Nang.

One rocket attack being prepared for Saigon was blocked when two alert GIs on a watchtower, James Wales of North Olmsted, Ohio, and Pfc. Eugene Griesing of Weatherley, Pa., observed radar traces of people moving about a mile away.

They called in mortar fire, and the radar scopes showed the people running off. At dawn searching troops found six 122mm rockets aimed at the heart of Saigon, their detonating wires running together into one line.

There have been five rocket attacks on Saigon during the current offensive, all launched from that general area.

The big American counter offensive, code-named Atlas Wedge, was launched 40 miles northwest of Saigon Tuesday to shatter enemy preparations for the assault on Saigon which U.S. intelligence officers insist is coming.

Backing up the ground forces, 18 B52 bombers dropped 540 tons of explosives on suspected enemy bases along the Saigon River and in the thick jungle and rubber plantation country northwest of the city.

U.S. headquarters reported that a light observation plane was shot down Sunday in the Mekong Delta 40 miles southwest of Saigon, and the two American crewmen were killed. It was the 349th American plane reported shot down over South Vietnam during the war.

SPRING REGISTRATION at Kent State University's branch here was held Tuesday with 313 signing for the quarter. The weather was so appropriate that Mrs. Delores Goodman, secretary, took the processing outdoors for Tessa Garee, left, of Wellsville and Ruth Bradford, right, of East Liverpool, two freshmen.

Army Plans Leniency In Mutiny Case

Claims Convictions Against 4 Brought Outrageous Terms

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army plans to act with considerable leniency reviewing stiff court martial sentences given soldiers convicted of mutiny in a California stockade last October, it was learned today.

The decision reflects a high-level Army conclusion that mutiny charges against 27 inmates of the Presidio, Calif., stockade were ill-advised and that initial convictions brought "outrageous" sentences.

Trials of the first four men prosecuted under the mutiny charge brought prison terms of as much as 16 years.

Records of the first case involving Pvt. Nesery Sood, who originally got 15 years, were flown to Washington Tuesday so that the Army advocate general could cut the sentence to two years.

Only 24 hours earlier, Lt. Gen. Stanley Larsen, Sixth Army commander, had reduced Sood's sentence, from 15 to 7 years. Top Army officers felt even that was too harsh.

Maj. Gen. Kenneth J. Hodson, advocate general, made the further reduction in sentence by acting under a rarely applied clemency authority.

In the normal course of events, he would have left it to the Army Board of Review to pass judgement on the appropriateness of the sentence.

It is understood, however, that Secretary of the Army Stanley R. Resor has been gravely concerned about controversy surrounding the Army's handling of the Presidio matter and wanted no delay in making amends.

Resor's chief concern was that the public might lose faith in the military system of justice and the whole legal setup would be undermined by dissent.

Rather than pass down improper and quite possibly illegal edicts to first-level legal officers handling the cases, the Army decided to let the trials run the course.

Besides Sood, Pvts. Lawrence Reidel, Louis Osczpinski and John Colip all were convicted of mutiny. Osczpinski was assessed 16 years, Reidel 14 and Colip 4, each being dishonorably discharged and forfeiting all pay.

The Presidio demonstration occurred Oct. 12, 1968, three days after a stockade guard fatally shot a prisoner who began running after making taunting remarks.

The Army subsequently ruled the slaying as justifiable homicide.

On Oct. 14, 1968, when stockade prisoners were assembled for roll call at 7:30 a.m., the 27 sat in one corner of the stockade enclosure singing protest songs. Later they complained of stockade conditions.

Officials Adopt Course

Landing On Moon Set For Flight Of Apollo 11 In July

SPACE CENTER, Houston, Tex. (AP) — High level space officials have decided to send Apollo 10 around the moon for 63 hours, but man's first landing there will have to await the flight of Apollo 11.

A source at the Manned Spacecraft Center said the space agency officials adopted this course at a meeting Tuesday.

Apollo 10 will be launched May 18, the source said, and fly into lunar orbit. Two of its crew will then fly the landing module to within 10 miles of the lunar surface, leaving the third crewman behind in the command module.

The lunar module descent stage will be jettisoned at 10 miles above the moon and the ascent stage flown up to a rendezvous with the command module. The ascent stage will be left in lunar orbit and the crew will return to earth in the command module.

A successful flight by Apollo 10 will virtually assure a moon landing attempt by Apollo 11, now scheduled for a July blastoff.

The reported decision appeared to end speculation that the first moon landing attempt would be made by Apollo 10, without waiting for the Apollo 11 launch.

According to one source, astronaut Thomas P. Stafford, the commander of Apollo 10, had actively campaigned to have his mission attempt the moon landing.

But, a source said, officials judged it would be more prudent to use Apollo 10 to gather more information about the moon and make the big try later with Apollo 11.

One concern is accurate tracking and orbital altitude determination. Engineers learned during Apollo 8 that differences in the gravitational pull of various areas of the moon cause altitude changes for orbiting spacecraft greater than had been noted on unmanned lunar orbiters.

The crew for Apollo 10 will be Stafford; Navy Cmdr. Eugene Cernan and Navy Cmdr. John Young, all veterans of the Gemini space flight series.

Laird Makes Request For ABM Funds

$800 Million Asked For Modified Plan At Closed Hearing

WASHINGTON (AP) — The administration had a generally friendly forum today for the Capital Hill unveiling of its revised missile defense system.

Some $800 million in funds for deployment of the modified Sentinel system were contained in budget requests prepared by Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird for a closed hearing of the Senate Armed Services Committee.

Despite strong opposition in the Senate to any antiballistic missile (ABM) system, Armed Services is heavily weighted with supporters. Missouri Democrat Stuart Symington is the opposition's voice on the panel.

The appearance of Laird and his deputy, David Packard, was the administration's first foray onto Capital Hill in support of the ABM since President Nixon announced his modifications to the Lyndon Johnson program last Friday.

The $800 million represents about half what Johnson had sought for the initial phase of Sentinel which, under Nixon, will entail construction at two sites and procurement of 10 more.

It is the vote on these funds—expected in about two months—that will provide the test for Nixon, especially in the Senate. House leaders predict easier going if the funds make it through the Senate.

Since Friday, Nixon has picked up 10 votes in the Senate and an Associated Press survey now shows 44 votes against ABM, 35 for and 21 uncommitted.

Next skirmish for the administration should come Friday when Laird testifies before the Senate disarmament subcommittee where the balance is against the ABM.

Subdivision Regulations Aired

County Planners Approve 'Corridor' Growth Design

LISBON — Final approval of Columbiana County's comprehensive plan was authorized by the Regional Planning Commission following a number of revisions during a meeting Tuesday night in the Courthouse.

The commission also discussed proposed changes in the county's subdivision regulations and agreed to delay any revisions for one year.

Nineteen attended the meeting at which the final report of McLean & McGraw, consultants on the comprehensive plan, was accepted.

The original report had recommended a commercial, industrial and cultural "core" centered at the junction of Route 11 and 30 near Lisbon.

THE COMMISSION proposed that the development goals be directed at the whole central highway area of the county, focused upon the Route 11-Route 45 path extending between Salem and East Liverpool.

Revisions were made by the executive committee on this "corridor" plan, and accepted last night by the whole commission. Plans were made for the printing of the new version.

The final report summarizes some of the economic, transportation and other problems of the county, with various recommendations made to solve them.

Considerable discussion was devoted to proposed revisions of the subdivision regulations as offered by a committte named in January.

The committee was appointed following reports of complaints about some of the procedures and requirements of the subdivision regulations which were adopted by the county in 1967. One report said there had been no major subdivisions approved since the new regulations were submitted.

—:—

MOST OF the commission members at last night's meeting said they had received no complaints about the regulations, and James Morrissey, director, said only one complaint had been listed at his office, and it was an attorney who had sub-

The 'Boss' Rejects Plea

KENOSHA, Wis. (AP)— Deputy Sheriff Randolph Stroble was so proud of his handlebar mustache he was suspended and fired for refusing to shave it off. Then he went to Circuit Court and got an injunction ordering the sheriff to give him his job back—with back pay.

But, Stroble found, there is no appeal from a ruling made by "the boss at home." His wife made him shave it off.

Young Links Secret Talks To Pullout

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Stephen M. Young, D-Ohio, said Tuesday the United States should couple secret peace talks with the recall of 100,000 troops to bring about a cease fire in Vietnam.

"It is my understanding that secret diplomatic negotiations have been proceeding for some months," Young reported.

"It may be that such negotiations may be even more important than the Paris peace talks," added Young, a member of the Senate Armed Services Committee.

"These talks are much more likely to bring about an armistice if there is this de facto withdrawal of American forces."

He termed the talks "diplomatic exchanges" and said he could not disclose where they are taking place.

Californian New Chief Of Peace Corps

WASHINGTON (AP) — A young Californian who conceived his own version of the Peace Corps as a college student will be the new chief of the nation's Peace Corps.

Joseph H. Blatchford, 34, whose appointment was announced Tuesday night by President Nixon, will be the Peace Corps' third director since the agency was founded eight years ago. He will succeed Jack Hodd Vaughn, upon Senate confirmation of the appointment.

Blatchford, a Republican, is executive director of ACCION international, a private, nonprofit organization whose aim is to improve urban slums in Latin America.

1.1 Million Due Back

GM Cites Brakes In Vehicle Recall

DETROIT (AP) — Three weeks after announcing the biggest car recall in the automobile industry's history, General Motors is calling back another 1.1 million vehicles, this time for correction of possible brake defects. The two recalls cover 6 million cars, buses and trucks.

Linked to the latest callback was the crash of a GM-built bus last autumn at Huntsville, Ala. which killed a 4-year-old boy and injured 24 other junior high school pupils.

On Feb. 26 GM asked owners of 4.9 million vehicles to take them back to dealers for correction of possible carburetor and exhaust system defects. GM said then four deaths had been attributed to faulty exhaust systems.

Involved in the new call were Pontiac cars and Chevrolet and GMC trucks and buses.

GM declined comment Tuesday on the crash of the General Motors bus in Alabama, but noted that an investigator for the National Highway Safety Bureau said that a seal in the bus's master brake cylinder was worn enough to cause a hydraulic pressure failure.

The report, GM said, also stated the vehicle's brake linings were worn and could have been a contributing factor to the crash.

GM also said seven accidents had been reported involving trucks, another involving a school bus and something under 20 involving the Pontiac automobiles—1965 and 1966 Pontiac Catalinas, Star Chiefs, Bonnevilles and Grand Prix models.

The autos were recalled for replacement of two front brake hoses which according to field experience could fail after extended mileage, GM said. A total of 967,000 Pontiacs were involved.

Other vehicles involved in the recall were:

—164,050 Chevrolet and GMC truck and coach bus chassis and medium duty trucks for replacement of the primary seal which controls hydraulic pressure in the brake system.

—2,040 Chevrolet and GMC four wheel drive light duty trucks which may have a brake drum distortion caused by wheel interference. This could eventually result in cracking of the wheel disc.

6 More Days To Register

To be eligible to vote in East Liverpool at the May 6 primary election, you must register with the County Election Board at 129 W. 6th St. if:

You haven't voted at a primary, general or special election in the last two years; you've changed your name by marriage or court action; you've changed your residence since the last election; you've become 21 since the last election or will be 21 on or before Nov. 4, the general election date.

A new resident is qualified to vote after he has resided in Ohio for a year and in Columbiana County and his precinct for 40 days prior to Election Day. East Liverpool is the only community in the county where voter registration is required.

Sheriff Controversy Given New Hearing

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP) — The West Virginia Supreme Court heard heated arguments Tuesday in the latest phase of the legal battle over the post of sheriff in Hancock County.

The case concerns the disputed race between Democrat Lou Smoleski and Republican Ralph Patrick Jr., both of Weirton.

Smoleski is asking the high court to order the county court to begin "with all due dispatch" a trial of proceedings in which he is contesting the election of Patrick.

Central issue is a state law which states a county court may not extend an election contest hearing "beyond three months from the day of the election."

Appropriation OK'd

Increase Seen In Costs Of City School Operation

Estimates of budget allotments for the East Liverpool Schools in 1969 are higher than previous year although the appropriation approved Monday night by the board of education is lower.

The total appropriation for 1969 is $3,797,561, a total of $2,131,240 less than 1968, due largely to the 1968 expenses of the new building program.

The increased 1969 figures result from operation of the new cafeterias, federal funds received for programs approved under the title programs, and monies set aside for the improved vocational education programs in East Liverpool to be used as soon as state matching funds are made available.

The cost of the new administration building is also included in the increased improvement fund figure.

The amount alloted the general fund for operating expenses is $2,482,738, or $54,339 more than the 1968 figure. This increase is due to the new evaluation of East Liverpool property under the recent reappraisal.

The 1969 general operating expenses, with 1968 figures in parenthesis, are: salaries (all employes except the cafeteria personnel) $1,934,005, ($1,904,725); supplies, such as textbooks, library books, coal and gas, $86,510 ($101,950); materials for maintenance, $2,050 ($3,600); equipment replacements, $4,150 ($5,375).

Contract and open order service, including repairs of all types of equipment, water, electricity, telephone, tuition to other districts, advertising, freight, hauling trash, $74,724 ($71,372); fixed charges, such as insurance, garage rent and student activity programs, $34,300; ($31,800); capital outlay, $26,000 ($4,000).

EMPLOYEE retirement, $27,430 ($28,416); teacher retirement, $208,219 ($198,022); workmen's compensation, $5,604 ($4,500); election expense, $8,597 ($4,265); auditor's and treasurer's fees, $31,424 ($30,780); ROTC program, $10,100 ($10,200); state board of education, $27,250 ($27,113); state examiner, $2,000 ($1,500) and advertising delinquent lands, $323 ($280).

Some of the changes are minor, reflecting a slight cost increase or cost lowering of the service, Supt. Paul Blair said.

The teacher salary total is less because several teachers now at the top of the pay scale are retiring this year, Blair said. It is expected that new instructors replacing these teachers will be paid less on the salary scale, and therefore the cost will be down, Kathryn Liebschner, board clerk, explained.

The cost for other special services, also under salaries, is higher — from $26,345 in 1968 to $46,200 in 1969. This includes a full year salary for the vocational education personnel. The 1968 figure reflects only four months of these salaries.

In the supplies category, money alloted for textbooks, library books and coal and gas have all been lowered. The need for textbook replacements is expected but cutbacks in some appropriations had to be made to meet increases in others, Blair reported.

THE $22,000 increase in capital outlay is allowance for the purchase of at least three buses.

In addition to the general fund, appropriation figures, with 1968 figures in parenthesis, are: bond retirement fund, $381,537 ($394,956); lunch room, $220,438 ($81,135); improvement fund, $337,770 ($141,991); federal funds, $128,786 (-0-); night schools, $2,036 ($971); workbooks and other, $7,826 ($9,107) repair and maintenance, $76,661 ($69,207); and project 491, $159,767 ($2,803,033).

The lunch room figure is increased this year by $139,302 due to the opening of new cafeterias at the high school and the three new elementary buildings.

No money was alloted in 1968 for federal funds. This year in the appropriation figures determined by County Auditor Kenneth Bell, East Liverpool is expected to receive $128,786 to be used for federal programs.

This figure also includes matching fund programs, and reflects the cost-share amount received from the federal government.

The improvement fund — up $195,779 — includes money set aside as East Liverpool's share of the enlarged vocational education program and interest monies received on this money and on bonds sold.

The cost of the administration building at the former Taft School and permanent improvements will be paid from this fund.

Repairs and maintenance not of a permanent nature are paid from the repair and maintenance fund. This revenue is received from a 1-mill levy up for renewal at the May 6 primary, and the $7,453 boost is from the increased evaluation.

THE MONEY available in the Project 491 fund is earmarked for bills that have not been paid in the recent building program.

Supt. Blair, in discussing the appropriations, remarked about the electricity figure. Although it is higher, Blair said money is being saved by the electric heating because it saves the salaries of five licensed boilermen who would have been needed if other heating had been used.

Miss Liebschner said she believed it would take at least two years before an average cost of the electric heat could actually be ascertained. Last year's figure does not reflect a full year, and this winter was a mild one, she stated.

Board members concurred with Blair that the electric heat would be a savings for the school district.

In discussing the appropriations, board members expressed the belief that East Liverpool was providing a good education for the money available.

Harry McConville said Salem had a tax evaluation of $59,401,000 while East Liverpool's was $56,289,000. At the same time, the East Liverpool school tax rate was also lower.

SALEM has about 4,600 students while East Liverpool has 5,600.

George Ward said this local tax money provided amounted to $269 on a per pupil basis for East Liverpool students, while Salem had $428 per pupil. Ward said he believed East Liverpool's program was comparable to Salem's.

However, it was pointed out that the amounts available from the state under the foundation program vary.

Classes Planned In Machine Shop

The local Employment Service Office is cooperating with the Salem office in recruiting those interested in a machine shop trainees' class, which will start in about a week.

An interviewer will be available at the office at 401 College St. Thursday.

The classes, held in the vocational wing of Salem Senior High School, will continue for 26 weeks, with 40 hours of instruction weekly. An allowance of $74 per week is paid trainees while attending.

Officials of the employment service pointed out there is a critical need for trained persons in the area.

The trainees receive concentrated training on setup and actual operation of the machine shop tools and related training, such as blueprint reading and shop mathematics.

Anyone interested should contact the office today or Thursday.

200 Attend Fund Dinner Of Democrats

COLUMBIANA — Approximately 200 attended a $20-per-plate campaign dinner sponsored by the Columbiana County central and executive committees Tuesday night at Heck's Restaurant.

There were no speakers and the evening was spent socially.

County Chairman Don Gosney introduced Dr. Robert Price, Jefferson County chairman, and Howard Mercer, party chairman of Tuscarawas County.

Also introduced were county officeholders — Common Pleas Judge Louis Tobin, Treasurer Vincent C. Judge, Commissioner R. Max Gard, Auditor Kenneth Bell, Clerk of Courts Carl L. Stacey, Recorder John P. Wargo and Dr. William Kolozsi, coroner.

Legion Of Honor Of DeMolays Has Dinner Meeting

The annual meeting of "Legion of Honor members of Harding Chapter, Order of DeMolay, was held Tuesday night at the Country Club.

Guests included officers of the chapter and their advisers.

The objectives of the annual dinner event were reviewed by Don Eckert. The invocation was offered by Robert Kidd.

Legion of Honor members introduced were Mayor George Willshaw, Dr. A. S. Fisher, Merrill Hall, Homer Hoffman, Irvin Vorndran, James Walker, Thomas Eason, Kidd and Eckert.

Also introduced were Charles Jones, high priest of East Liverpool Chapter 100; William Martin, worshipful master of Masonic Lodge 681, and William Lowe and Bernard Casto, DeMolay advisers.

The program, presented by Dr. Fisher, featured slides and a commentary on progress being made by Israel.

Master Counselor Dan Ensinger of Harding chapter expressed thanks for the invitation to the program.

The event was arranged by a committee which included Dr. Fisher, Kidd and Willshaw.

Two Men Bound Over In Thefts At Auto Lot

LISBON — Fred Kidder of 527 E. Washington St. and Gary L. Crowl of Lisbon RD 2 were bound over to the Columbiana County Grand Jury Monday following a preliminary hearing before Judge J. L. MacDonald in Southwest Court.

They pleaded not guilty to a charge of stealing two wheels and tires Feb. 8 from a new car on display in the Lehman Ford lot on Route 45 north of here. Both are free under $1,000 bond.

Newell, Chester Firemen Battle Two Brush Blazes

Two brush fires within a mile of each other kept Newell and Chester volunteer firemen busy Tuesday afternoon.

Both fires endangered homes on the Waterford Park Rd. and the Lennyville Rd., about five miles south of Newell off Route 2.

The first call was answered by Newell firemen at 2:15 p.m. to the residence of Everett Myers on the Waterford Park Rd. Myers' daughter was burning paper which spread to the brush. Two sheds on the property were destroyed, with damage estimated at $300, and the house and garage were scorched.

While Newell volunteers fought the blaze, another brush fire within a mile of the first broke out about 3 p.m. on the Lennyville Rd. The Newell volunteers summoned Chester firemen, with 10 men responding.

While Chester firemen fought the original blaze, 16 Newell volunteers went to the Lennyville Rd. where 25 acres were burned and a shed destroyed. At one time, three homes and three garages were endangered, but were not damaged. The second call was at the residence of Ray Lear on the Lennyville Rd.

At 9:58 p.m. Newell firemen extinguished flames in a junked car parked at the rear of the Rogers Esso Station at 5th and Washington Sts. The car, owned by Steve Norris of Newell, was destroyed. The fire endangered a house trailer, but was extinguished before spreading.

Newell firemen issued a warning on burning during daylight hours. Burning should only be after 5 p.m. at 5 a.m., they said. Another warning was issued relative to cars following fire trucks too closely. An official of the Newell volunteer department said charges will be filed in future incidents.

Black Armband Is In Order

War news these days is not restricted to reports from Saigon, or Dak To or Pleiku. It may come from Amman, Jordan, or Tel Aviv, Israel, or the Chinese and Russians may tell of more killing at Damanski Island on the Ussuri River.

It is not time for gloating that the United States has company in the trap of war. It is a time of great sorrow that so many nations are so incapable of dealing with each other that the most primitive means of settling a dispute is brought into play.

THE SITUATION on all three fronts is likely to get worse before it gets better.

In the case of Vietnam, President Nixon is feeling more and more pressure to retaliate against North Vietnamese attacks. The South Vietnamese are talking tougher, and public negotiations are at a standstill in Paris.

The only hopeful sign is Mr Nixon's reluctance to submit to demand for escalation and his statements that private talks are being conducted with the specific goal of ending the war.

Meanwhile, more Americans and their allies are being killed in daily battles.

In the Middle East, Israel sticks by its position that no land will be reqlinquished in peace talks and Arab commando training camps are busier every day.

Each air strike by Israel and each Arab guerrilla raid could be the trigger for expanded violence in that trouble area of the world.

Who knows what is really going on between the Russians and Chinese? It can be assumed safely that whatever it is, a conciliation is not in the cards in the near future.

PEKING IS MOCKING Soviet leaders as "mad dogs" and vowing to destroy them. Anti-Chinese demonstrations are reaching the fever pitch in Moscow and masses are vowing revenge.

The hate that is at loose in the world is leaving a trail of blood and leaving a question that cannot be ignored: Will man come to his senses before his hate-kill instinct destroys the world?

Amateur Dragsters

True drag racing enthusiasts—those devoted to the tightly-timed contests between automobiles of similar power classes—have only disdain for the amateurs who stage after-dark dashes on public highways.

The average citizen and law officers have stronger feelings about such noodleheads who put the family auto or their own souped-up buggy to noisy and dangerous use without regard for the peace and welfare of others.

The gathering of young people arrested in Beaver County at the site of a "drag-in" on Route 265 had an interest in this sport, but certainly the wrong idea of when, where and how to practice it.

Those who really want competition on the basis of engine power, auto design and driver skill, should place it on the proper basis—on a regulation track with the correct timing devices, evaluation of mechanical classes and the right safety equipment, not on an open highway where factors vary, where nearby residents are offended by the noise and where someone stands a frighteningly good chance of getting killed.

Memories Of '36

St. Patrick's Day in the Ohio Valley never fails to evoke some memories among the folks over forty of the rip-roaring flood of 'em all, the '36 wingding which left little high or dry along the swollen river.

Some of the sadness and some of the humor of that cold, damp and muddy week were recalled in a letter sent to The Review by Delpha Meadows of Commerce St. Wellsville, who referred to the number of things people did to help other people in need at that time.

Men and women pitched in to help stricken families move their belongings, provided food and clothing and places to stay, set up dining areas at churches and other large buildings, and offered assistance of every variety.

Mrs. Meadows, whose Wells Ave. home was hard hit by the flood waters—"I lost everything downstairs, and when I went back I had no plaster on the walls or a chair to sit on," commented about some of the unusual sights.

"A man with two chickens under his arm leading a dog in a battle of suspense. One woman brought a corset in her hand, and another carried an empty bird cage."

Mrs. Meadows, who headed a kitchen operation at the First Christian Church and later served with a Red Cross food receiving unit, told of people as far as Chester and Newell sending meat loaves and baked beans to Wellsville.

A disaster which left many dead, thousands homeless and millions of dollars in damage, the flood of 33 years ago nevertheless proved the bravery, generosity and humor of the average man and woman in time of need.

Russia Puts A Toe Forward

Perhaps it is because the Soviet Union is having its share of trouble in other areas of the world that it seems to have eased up in its anti-American propaganda recently.

The outright antagonism of the Red Chinese, which has flared into border conflict, and the intransigence of Romania with respect to Russia's desire for supranational control over the Warsaw Pact nations' armed forces are extremely visible signs that all is not going well for the Kremlin leaders.

Perhaps it is too early to say that a softening on the part of the Russians is occuring but the announcement Monday that the Soviet Union has proposed a broaden official contacts with this country by establishing consulates in San Francisco and Leningrad would tend to indicate it.

The Russians may have an ulterior motive in their proposal (they usually do) but as long as their proposal is a two-way street, it would seem to be a favorable development.

It has been 20 years since the two nations operated consulates in cities other than the other country's capital.

The State Department is consulting with the FBI and other executive branch departments in rego problems which might arise from Russian diplomats residing in San Francisco.

If no major objections can be found to the Russians' proposal, the United States government should accept it—at least on a conditional basis. If problems developed, the agreement could be terminated.

Thanks Expressed

We'd like to thank all who helped make the house-to-house solicitation for Dollars for Scholars campaign Sunday a success.

Our district chairman, who spent many hours lining up the workers, the workers who covered all the streets, the various school clubs, namely, Mrs. Barbour and her Hi Tri Girls; Mr. Chontos and his Youth In Action group; Miss Norma Carpenter and the National Honor Society; the four Key Club boys who we called at the very last minute to help, and our own children who spent much of their time helping.

Much is said about the rebellious youth, but much more should be said about the type of boys and girls who helped so willingly Sunday. Many boys and girls aided the district chairman, and it just couldn't have been done without them. They were great.

We can't personally thank all who worked, but we'd like to thank them through this little article in the paper.

Tired Generation

I am a member of the tired generation. We were born during and after World War I. Our fathers fought to save democracy because they thought democracy was worth saving and they taught us to feel the same way.

So the present generation doesn't like the world it's been handed. Well, we weren't crazy about the one handed us, but we didn't regard flag burning and destroying public and private property as the means of solving our problems.

We were too busy getting the education our families could ill aford to give us. A world wide depression hit us and money was not something you threw around. Education was to be cherished not taken for granted. When we were just getting a start in adult life we were called to defend our country and democracy, and we thought it was worth defending.

We took a past war, depressed economy and put it on its feet. We built this nation into the strongest and most successful in the world and we willingly donated billions to help build other nations.

We are the generation that has paid taxes to construct today's public schools, state universities, etc., and we have not done this by "freaking out" just "doing our thing" or sitting in a smoke-filled room going to pot.

We aren't saints nor are we devils. Some of us have made modest livings and some have gone to skid row, but most of us have done our best as human beings. We've made mistakes, wrong decisions.

We're only human and there have been a lot of decisions to make and now we are tired. Tired of being told by incompetents that doing the right thing is a sin. We are tired of hearing the U. S. and democracy are to blame for all today's problems. Where would the world be today if it weren't for the U. S. and its strength and support. Anyone who thinks life in Russia, Red China or Cuba or any other communist country is better than ours, should ask the people of Czechoslovakia what they think.

We're tired of being told that a college sophomore knows more about running the world than those who have spent a lifetime studying its problems or more about his college than the president with a Ph. D. and years of experience.

We're tired of supplying the tax dollars to build educational buildings only to see them destroyed by a group of irresponsible students following the dictates of communistic leaders. We're tired of supplying free education to people, white, black, or pea green pink, who seem more interested in creating chaos than in seeking education.

We're tired of having the "generation gap" used as an excuse for every difference between today's youth and authority. There always has been a generation gap and always will be, but this doesn't excuse the breaking of law or flouting of authority. We're tired of supplying the dollars to feed, clothe and house our fellow citizens with no demands for self discipline, responsibility, or growth made upon the recipients.

Boston Mafia Probe Moves

WASHINGTON — For the steak-eating Mafiosi, Boston too long has been the home of the bean and the rod. Some 45 murders by independent gangs certainly would draw the "Feds" down on the area, grumbled many Cosa Nostra dons and underbosses. So the enforcers were dispatched throughout the coastal strip to end the native gang wars. The murders ended.

Victor Riesel

But it was too late. Secretly, Attorney General Mitchell has ordered a Justice Dept. strike force to head for Boston to assault the Mafiosi right across all of New England, from New York's borders, through Connecticut, Rhode Island, Massachusetts, and the virgin territory of Maine, New Hampshire and Vermont.

This newest of the strike forces (which are "a unique concept of governmental law enforcement," composed of men from the FBI, the Internal Revenue Service, several divisions of the Justice Dept., the Labor Dept. and Customs) now is going through its orientation course. When it's fully briefed and coordinated, it will head for the Massachusetts capital under crack investigator Walter Barnes, one of the Justice Dept.'s Criminal Division's 177 lawyers.

THIS IS A MIGHTY meager complement for a federal force assigned to fight the 24 criminal syndicates which have a $50 billion annual take (according to Mr. Mitchell). But congressional power brokers constantly refuse to increase the $4.2 million budget provided for the 177 men, who daily must face not only the Cosa Nostra but all crime operations in the land.

So the Boston squad, the nation's eighth strike force, is small. But it's precedent smashing.

This is the first time a strike force, designed to concentrate on a single major area, not only will attempt to crack the Cosa Nostra, but also will try to protect territory into which the Mafia has not yet moved. And Maine, New Hampshire and Vermont is such territory.

For the Mafia, with its vast cash flowing back from its anonymous accounts in Swiss banks, these states are classic open "markets" for mob money. The area is wide open. There are vast unoccupied areas. There is a fantastic opportunity for hotel, motel and resort building. In Cosa Nostra language, the boys have been "casing the joint."

The Boston squad will attempt what others have not — to contain the mob which already is disturbing southern Maine, according to Justice Dept. insiders.

THERE IS A New England Cosa Nostra, of course. Some years ago, this unit, a small "family" of 100 Mafiosi, was identifid by a Senate subcommittee as the syndicate allegedly led by the 61-year-old, cigar smoking, alligator shoed, 5-foot-7 "unknown" Ray Patriarca. His base is Providence, but from time to time he has slipped into New York for talks with dons running Manhattan and Brooklyn operations.

On March 8, 1968, Patriarca was sentenced to five years, after conviction on charges of "conspiring to violate the Interstate Transportation in Aid of Rackteering statute by utilizing interstate commerce facilities with intent to control regional gambling by force and violence, including murder."

Though the New England syndicate never drew the notoriety which made the New York, New Jersey and Chicago mobs so flashy, it always has been big business. It has reached into a string of unions along the coast, but not on the waterfront. Some supposedly observant forces in New Haven, Hartford and Providence, as well as Boston, will be surprised and as red-faced as a local beet before it's all over.

THERE'S ONE MORE dramatic angle to this still secretive Boston maneuver. It marks the beginning of the linkup of strike forces which, John Mitchell hopes, will cover first the East and Mississippi Midwest — and then the Far West.

Boston pegs the chain in the Northeast corner. This strike force will work with the oldest of the strike squads, the Buffalo, N.Y., group. Thus, the border and Canadian Mafia operations will be covered — and linked with the newer Detroit and Chicago strike headquarters. South of Boston, there are the forces in New York's Eastern District and Philadelphia. Newark's operation is getting under way and not the least of its fascinating probes is its strike force investigation of the Teamsters.

From Philadelphia, the strike forces leapfrog to the one in Miami. Soon this will be tied to the upcoming operations in New Orleans and Kansas City — from which St. Louis and all of Missouri will be covered. The Kansas City move will make the ninth strike force and the tenth will be in New Orleans.

It's slow work. Obviously, the wheels of the Justice Dept. grind slowly because here's not enough congressional grease. But Attorney General John Mitchell says that fighting organized crime is one of his two priorities. The other day, he said that "we are now reorganizing and greatly strengthening."

But the question is: How do you fight a $50 billion-a-year empire with "penny ante" appropriations?

Discrimination

WASHINGTON — Complaints are coming in not only to management but to labor unions about a "discrimination in reverse" that is developing in the hiring or firing or promotion of employes.

This has arisen because the federal government has assumed the power to grant or withhold contracts to companies on the basis of their record with respect to "racial discrimination" — sometimes construed as a failure by a company to employ a large enough number of Negroes.

Various commissions in states and cities have been trying to encourage industrial companies to hire more Negro employes. Often this is difficult because there are not many qualified persons available from the Negro residents in a given area.

BUT THE BIGGEST PROTESTS are heard in the discussions among members of labor unions who feel that a particular job or promotion was given to a Negro primarily to enhance the company's position rather than on merit.

This has produced a fear among white employes that, if an economic recession occurs, employers will hesitate to lay off Negroes, as this might lead to a loss of government contracts.

In nearly all union agreements, the workers who have the most seniority are the last to be laid off. Since only in recent years have large numbers of Negroes been added in many companies, they naturally would be the first to suffer if business conditions caused layoffs.

In the automobile industry, the United Automobile Workers have asked Ford Motor Co. to let the older employes voluntarily take a layoff — which, incidentally, means retaining 95 per cent of the regular weekly pay— so that presumably the Negroes at the bottom of the list would be able to continue work.

Some of the companies which are confronted with this aspect of the problem are trying to reduce their workweek and are taking other measures that will enable them to retain employes and thus make unnecessary any large number of layoffs.

The difficulty with the racial factor in the employment problem is not confined to any one section of the country. In the last presidential election, there was a substantial defection by workers from the Democratic party, which has always had the support of a big majority of labor-union members.

The commonly heard reason for the shift was that many white employes thought Wallace would protect their interests better than either Nixon or Humphrey. This was reflected in the large vote given Wallace in several northern states.

Unfortunately, in the past many personnel managers turned away qualified Negro applicants because of their race and the percentage of whites in certain companies now is considered too high. The problem is not easy to solve, since racial prejudices do not disappear overnight and some white workers frankly say they do not want to work alongside persons of another color.

In some cities today white workers are scarce, as many have moved to the suburbs, and personnel directors are saying that it is hard to get qualified help of any color. Employers in the large cities are finding also that, even when they hire whatever applicants are available, irrespective of race, efficiency isn't being attained.

Perhaps one of the most perplexing of the controversies has developed in the public-school systems where demands are being made that more and more Negro teachers be employed. This raises the question whether the quality of education will be maintained if the faculty of a school has to be selected on the basis of race.

LAWYERS IN MANY communities are struggling now with legal aspects of the problem and school boards are puzzled as to how they should choose teachers. This "discrimination in reverse" has led also to sharp dissent from teachers' unions.

If everybody were selected on merit and without regard to color and if each school hired the best teachers available, there would be no grounds for protest.

But, unhappily, confidence in the procedures of school boards is weakened when they are pressured to appoint certain percentages of white or Negro teachers, regardless of individual proficiency.

Through The Years

THIRTY YEARS AGO — William J. Mase, Robert W. Cartwright, Samuel W. Brown and John W. Golden Jr. of East Liverpool and Edmond R. B. Croft of Wellsville received the Order of Chevalier of the DeMolay Order.

William Lowry, Fred Banfield, Jane and Janet Savage, Jack Vogel and David McCollough, all students at Ohio State University, arrived to spend the spring vacation with their families in Wellsville.

TWENTY YEARS AGO — The name 49'ers was chosen for a newly-organized club at the home of Mrs. Wilbur Shafer of St. Clair Ave.

Clyde Foltz of Newell was named president of the Tri-State Firemen's Association.

TEN YEARS AGO — Jim Jordan, former Chester basketball star and later an All-American at North Carolina, was guest speaker at the father - son dinner honoring the Chester High School basketball team.

Larry Buchheit of Fontana, Calif., formerly of Dewey Ave. enlisted in the Navy.

The Kansas City move will make the ninth strike force and the tenth will be in New Orleans.

It's slow work. Obviously, the wheels of the Justice Dept. grind slowly because here's not enough congressional grease. But Attorney General John Mitchell says that fighting organized crime is one of his two priorities. The other day, he said that "we are now reorganizing and greatly strengthening."

But the question is: How do you fight a $50 billion-a-year empire with "penny ante" appropriations?

This 'n That

"Going down to the sea in ships" during the historic days of whaling was no short excursion. Most whaling ships of the 19th century were at sea for as many as three years each trip.

Discrimination

WASHINGTON — Complaints are coming in not only to management but to labor unions about a "discrimination in reverse" that is developing in the hiring or firing or promotion of employes.

This has arisen because the federal government has assumed the power to grant or withhold contracts to companies on the basis of their record with respect to "racial discrimination" — sometimes construed as a failure by a company to employ a large enough number of Negroes.

Various commissions in states and cities have been trying to encourage industrial companies to hire more Negro employes. Often this is difficult because there are not many qualified persons available from the Negro residents in a given area.

BUT THE BIGGEST PROTESTS are heard in the discussions among members of labor unions who feel that a particular job or promotion was given to a Negro primarily to enhance the company's position rather than on merit.

This has produced a fear among white employes that, if an economic recession occurs, employers will hesitate to lay off Negroes, as this might lead to a loss of government contracts.

In nearly all union agreements, the workers who have the most seniority are the last to be laid off. Since only in recent years have large numbers of Negroes been added in many companies, they naturally would be the first to suffer if business conditions caused layoffs.

In the automobile industry, the United Automobile Workers have asked Ford Motor Co. to let the older employes voluntarily take a layoff — which, incidentally, means retaining 95 per cent of the regular weekly pay— so that presumably the Negroes at the bottom of the list would be able to continue work.

Some of the companies which are confronted with this aspect of the problem are trying to reduce their workweek and are taking other measures that will enable them to retain employes and thus make unnecessary any large number of layoffs.

The difficulty with the racial factor in the employment problem is not confined to any one section of the country. In the last presidential election, there was a substantial defection by workers from the Democratic party, which has always had the support of a big majority of labor-union members.

The commonly heard reason for the shift was that many white employes thought Wallace would protect their interests better than either Nixon or Humphrey. This was reflected in the large vote given Wallace in several northern states.

Unfortunately, in the past many personnel managers turned away qualified Negro applicants because of their race and the percentage of whites in certain companies now is considered too high. The problem is not easy to solve, since racial prejudices do not disappear overnight and some white workers frankly say they do not want to work alongside persons of another color.

In some cities today white workers are scarce, as many have moved to the suburbs, and personnel directors are saying that it is hard to get qualified help of any color. Employers in the large cities are finding also that, even when they hire whatever applicants are available, irrespective of race, efficiency isn't being attained.

Perhaps one of the most perplexing of the controversies has developed in the public-school systems where demands are being made that more and more Negro teachers be employed. This raises the question whether the quality of education will be maintained if the faculty of a school has to be selected on the basis of race.

LAWYERS IN MANY communities are struggling now with legal aspects of the problem and school boards are puzzled as to how they should choose teachers. This "discrimination in reverse" has led also to sharp dissent from teachers' unions.

If everybody were selected on merit and without regard to color and if each school hired the best teachers available, there would be no grounds for protest.

But, unhappily, confidence in the procedures of school boards is weakened when they are pressured to appoint certain percentages of white or Negro teachers, regardless of individual proficiency.

Through The Years

THIRTY YEARS AGO — William J. Mase, Robert W. Cartwright, Samuel W. Brown and John W. Golden Jr. of East Liverpool and Edmond R. B. Croft of Wellsville received the Order of Chevalier of the DeMolay Order.

William Lowry, Fred Banfield, Jane and Janet Savage, Jack Vogel and David McCollough, all students at Ohio State University, arrived to spend the spring vacation with their families in Wellsville.

'Church In The Future' Discussed By Minister

"The Church in the Future" was discussed by the Rev. Donald Bell of the Chester Westminster United Presbyterian Church when he addressed the Chester Kiwanis Club Tuesday night at City Hall.

Rev. Bell cited two churches, one in Chicago and the other in Columbus, which closed their doors.

"The Chicago church closed because of a decrease in membership to the point where the congregation could not support the church. This church would not accept new residents of the community when other members moved to the suburbs. This was a predominently white neighborhood."

The Columbus church, located in a mixed neighborhood, refused to accept new residents in the area, Rev. Bell continued. "They built outside the city, but the congregation was not large enough to support the high-priced new churches."

"Churches no longer can afford to have overly-luxurious buildings. To insure the future, churches will have to unite," the speaker continued.

Bell pointed out that "one large church was $1 million short of its budget and other churches are having the same problem. "The Methodist Church lost approximately 30 million members and the Presbyterian Church lost 10 million. It takes at least 50 members to furnish enough resources to operate a church."

Rev. Bell suggested "instead of church on Sunday at 11 a. m. it may be better to hold services of the future say on Thursday night. The beginning time for the services today probably started back in the days when the morning farm chores had to be completed before the family could go to church. The daily life of man even then had its influences on the church."

He cautioned that the church of today will have to keep in step with the outside world in order to be preserved.

A question - and - answer period followed.

Oak Glen High School Key Club guests were George Eskra and Steve Seely. Key Club members will attend a conference at John Marshall High School Thursday.

Russ Davis, chairman, announced that an inter - club meeting will be held with the Wellsville Club Tuesday noon.

Richard Pillo, president, announced Kiwanis will hold its International convention June 29-July 2 at Miami Beach, Fla. Pillo introduced Lt. Gov. Guy Knapp of the 1st District of West Virginia Kiwanis, who was a guest.

How Can I?

Q. — How can I prevent weevils from invading my canisters of flour, cereal and the like?

A. — By putting a bay leaf in each of these canisters. This discourages the weevils without the grains' absorbing any of the odor of the bay leaf.

Q.—How can I re-stiffen the soft, flabby bristles on some of my hairbrushes?

A.—By swishing them through a water solution containing a little alum.

PTA Selects New Officers

A slate of officers presented by the nominating committee was accepted when the Garfield Parent - Teacher Association met Monday night in the Wellsville school.

They are: Mrs. Helen Kidder, president; Mrs. Marge Kinzel, first vice president; Samuel Linger, second vice president; Mrs. Shirley Rose, secretary and Mrs. Genevieve Heaton, treasurer.

During business conducted by Mrs. Chris LaClair, president, the group contributed $50 to Dollars for Scholars fund and $25 to the Robert Bycroft School for Retarded Children.

The program featured vocal solos by John Martin, accompanied by Ralph Falconer.

The attendance banner was won by Mrs. Doris Nelson's first grade. Refreshments were served by a committee by Mrs. Kinzel, Mrs. Sudie Smith and Mrs. Kidder. Candy provided by fifth-grade mothers was sold. Members were reminded of the Child Counseling Center dinner April 17, in East Liverpool.

The next meeting will be April 21.

Man Is Bound Over In Stabbing Death

NEWARK, Ohio (AP)—Municipal Court Judge Robert J. Moore at a preliminary hearing Tuesday ordered William Siddle, 25, bound to the Licking County Grand Jury in connection with the Feb. 22 murder of Mary Laca, 49.

Mrs. Laca, a neighbor of Siddle, was brutally stabbed to death in her home. Siddle pleaded innocent last month to a first-degree murder charge.

Midland Kaycees Outline Various March Projects

Various events for March were outlined by Al Nutz, grand knight, at a dinner for members of the Knights of Columbus, Council 2005, Monday at the club rooms.

There will be a family communion mass and breakfast at the council rooms followed by a public card party Sunday at 8 p.m. "Founders' Week" will be observed Monday and Nutz will present a trophy March 29 at Rochester High School to the winner of a basketball tournament held by the school.

The council donated money to the Presentation team so they could play in the tournament.

Nutz and Al Susis, deputy knight, will attend a caucus March 30 at the Duquesne Council in Pittsburgh.

An officers meeting is planned March 31, followed by a six-point program meeting in the council rooms.

The group is also planning an "Old Timers Night" May 25, when pastors of Midland and Industry will be honored along with previous pastors and assistants of Presentation Church of Midland. Tom Cronin and Susie are co-chairmen.

The council held an indoor lamb barbecue Sunday. The next business meeting will be April 7.

Lawrenceville Legion Enrolls 3 New Members

Three new members were enrolled Monday night by Lawrenceville American Legion Post 163. They are Jess Clutter, David Six and Ralph Bauch.

The organization authorized donations to the Hancock County Easter Seal drive and the Delmar Reed family which was burned out of its home early in March.

Lawrence Mikeals, commander, announced Charles Nonamaker has returned to the Veterans Hospital in Pittsburgh for treatment.

Mikeals received a lapel pin for having a 100 per cent membership post.

A new set of desk flags and 50th anniversary pins for members were ordered.

Mikeals announced the district convention will be held in Wheeling May 18 and the department convention July 11-13 at Parkersburg.

The next meeting of the post will be March 31.

Funds Slash Delays Building Of Telescope

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A 20 per cent cut in the budget of the National Science Foundation has caused indefinite postponement of plans by Ohio State University and nine other midwestern schools to build the world's largest telescope.

The $20 million steerable telescope was to have been a regional facility for use by Ohio State and Illinois, Iowa, Michigan, Michigan State, Minnesota, Northwestern, Purdue, Wisconsin and the University of Chicago.

St. Clair Sets Annual Fund Of $100,749

An annual appropriation of $100,749 was approved for St. Clair Township when trustees met Monday night.

The township has been operating on a temporary budget since Jan. 1.

The trustees met March 12 with county engineers to set up a summer road program which calls for 2.2 miles of blade mix and 10.17 miles of surface sealing. An estimated 2,500 tons of slag will be used and 68,463 gallons of asphalt emulsion.

The emulsion, purchased from the county, will cost $13,008. Both labor and installation will be provided by the county, trustees said.

Because 3,536 tons of slag were purchased during January and February, with only 2,136 tons used on the township roads, the remaining 1,400 tons have been stockpiled for use during the summer program. The additional 1,100 tons needed will be purchased from the Standard Slag Co. of Weirton.

Bills totaling $4,527 were paid.

EAST PALESTINE — Burial was held this morning at St. Mary's Cemetery for William F. Cain, 62, of 95 Garfield Ave., who died Monday at 12:15 a.m. at Salem City Hospital after a two-year illness.

Mr. Cain, formerly of Warren, retired five years ago as a boilermaker.

Survivors include four sisters, Miss Margaret Cain, Miss Cecelia Cain, Miss Veronica Cain and Miss Agnes Cain, at home; a brother, James E. Cain of East Palestine; a son, Jack W. Cain of Warren, and two grandchildren.

Services were held in Our Lady of Lourdes Church, with the Rev. Fr. Martin Matulik officiating.

The Van Dyke Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements.

Calvin Thompson

EAST PALESTINE — Calvin H. Thompson, 61, of 356 E. Highland Ave., a city park employe and former pottery worker, died Tuesday at 12:30 p.m. at Salem Central Clinic of injuries suffered in a fall at home Tuesday morning.

Dr. William A. Kolozsi, county coroner, ruled accidental death from a broken blood vessel in the head.

Mr. Thompson was born March 23, 1907, at East Palestine, a son of Henry and Mary Jane Spalding Thompson, and had resided in this area his lifetime.

He had worked at the former W. S. George Pottery Co. and later at the Royal China Co. In recent years he was a laborer at the City Park.

Survivors include three brothers, Adam Thompson, Charles Thompson and Russell Thompson of East Palestine, and four sisters, Mrs. Margaret Frankland, Mrs. Catherine Esterly, Mrs. Dorothy Manley and Mrs. Mary McConahy of East Palestine.

Services will be held Thursday afternoon at 1:30 at the Oliver - Linsley Funeral Home by the Rev. Guy E. Smith of the Emmanual United Methodist Church. Burial will be in Glenview Cemetery.

Friends may call tonight at the funeral home.

Hiles Honored With Reception For Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Hiles of Beaver Creek State Park were honored with an open house reception Sunday in observance of their 34th wedding anniversary.

They were married March 12, 1935, at Morrow, Ohio. Hiles has been manager of the park for seven years and previously managed Jackson Lake at Oak Hill, Ohio. He has been working for the state for 19 years. They formerly resided in Clarksville.

Miss Cathy Waldron, a granddaughter, received guests. Mrs. Hiles wore a white rosebud corsage.

Refreshments were served 60 at a buffet table covered with a lace cloth and centered with a three-tier cake flanked by lighted tapers.

Aides were their daughters, Miss Donna Hiles, Mrs. Daniel Dunn and Mrs. John J. Waldron and Mrs. Iva June Dailey and Mrs. Alfred Ward. Another daughter, Mrs. Thomas Packer of Blanchester, Ohio, was unable to attend.

Out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Harold Harris of Ravenna and Mr. and Mrs. Donald Emerick of Cuyahoga Falls.

Small British Force Lands On Rebel Isle

LONDON (AP) — A British mini-force landed on the rebellious Caribbean island of Anguilla without opposition early today, the Foreign Office announced.

In an operation that the government named Calypso and Londoners called the Bay of Piglets, the frigates Rothesay and Minerva put ashore a task force of paratroopers and marines, believed to number 315 men. They had been flown from London Tuesday to the island of Antiqua, 70 miles southeast of Anguilla.

The brief foreign office communique said Foreign Secretary Michael Stewart would make a statement in the House of Commons later today.

The landing force was accompanied by Anthony Lee, a career diplomat the government planned to install as British commissioner in charge of the tiny island.

Area Driver Treated In Hancock Accident

A Warwood woman was treated and released at City Hospital for injuries she received when her car struck guardrails on Route 2 just south of the Newell Bridge at 4:03 a.m. today.

Bonnie D. Cunningham, 35, told Hancock County sheriff's deputies she lost control of her car. She was treated for lacerations of the forehead and multiple contusions of the body.

No citations were issued.

In the late 1840s, wheat served as legal tender in Oregon, National Geographic says. A bushel was worth $1.

On Military Supply Shipments

Sabotage Threats Spur Tight Railroad Security

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's railroads, under threats of sabotage from anti-Vietnam war groups, have placed the tightest security precautions in history on shipments of munitions and military supplies.

The new safeguards, drawn up jointly by military and railroad representatives, resulted from what FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover termed "a marked increase" in acts of sabotage against government installations.

Government officials have indicated rail shipments of Vietnam-bound material have been listed as prime targets by some antiwar groups who have threatened to use force to impede the war effort.

A railway spokesman said the threats along with reported "isolated incidents" of interference with defense shipments led to the elaborate antisabotage steps.

The new rail security procedures include:

—Sending trains laden with munitions and defense supplies through isolated areas and generally at night.

—Varying routing so no pattern can be detected in defense shipments. In fact, many are routed over a much longer distance than necessary in order to avoid detection.

—Triple sealing doors of box cars containing explosives before shipment.

—Careful inspections of railway track and facilities near Wilmington, N.C., and Oakland, Calif.—primary embarkation points for Vietnam-bound supplies.

Hoover says "terrorist activities" against government installations primarily have involved attacks on Reserve Officers Training Corps and Selective Service facilities.

But there have been cases—the FBI says it has no exact figures—of sabotage against utility towers serving defense plants.

And a railway source reported that a cache of small arms was stolen recently from a boxcar at the Army's Aberdeen, Md. proving grounds.

Government officials, cautious in discussing suspected sabotage because of fears of triggering an alarmist reaction from the public, say the outbreak shows only "a marked increase" and is not a wave of terrorist activities.

Hoover traces the incidents to last June when the Students for a Democratic Society, a militant leftist youth group, held its national convention at Michigan State University.

Despite numerous cases investigated, only two indictments have been returned.

Israeli Jets Again Hit At Arab Targets

TEL AVIV (AP) — Israeli jets streaked across the Jordan River today for the third time in four days to hammer Arab guerrilla positions at the foot of the Gilead Mountains.

Flames and smoke rose as about four warplanes alternately strafed and bombed.

The raid followed a mortar attack on Israeli forces near Neve Ur, nine miles south of the Sea of Galilee. The army said there were no casualties in that action.

On Monday, Israeli jets hit three major Arab guerrilla bases in Jordan, one only six miles from Amman, the Jordanian capital. Today's action appeared concentrated at Al-Manshiya, just south of the Sea of Galilee.

The Israeli radio reported that four soldiers were wounded today when their vehicle ran over a mine at Khan Yunis, on the Mediterranean Coast.

In Amman a Jordanian military spokesman said Jordanian forces wounded three Israeli soldiers during a 25-minute clash in the northern Jordan valley today.

When a recipe calls for "crushed garlic," you can use either a garlic crusher or a mortar and pestle for reducing the garlic clove to a pulp. If you use a garlic crusher, it is not necessary to peel the garlic clove before crushing.

Spice canned beef bouillon with lemon juice and Worchestershire sauce and serve over ice as a before-dinner offering.

HINTS FROM HELOISE

A Kitchen 'Brightener'

DEAR HELOISE: I live in an old house, have a batch of kids, and our kitchen table is old.

With all the kids I have, I cannot possibly wash and iron tablecloths every day. I hit upon an idea that should bring joy to your heart!

Heloise

I went to my dime store, bought some adhesive-backed plastic and cut out my own placemats.

But then — and here's the part that you'll love — I removed the back from the plastic and stuck each mat permanently to our kitchen table!

Now, I do not have to remove, wash and dry the individual placemats three times a day. All I do is take a sponge and wipe across the table top.

Believe it or not, it looks real pretty.

MOMMY.

-:-

Wow, that takes the cake for the month. Bless you. Cafes could also use this idea. Be real perk, too.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: Save small pieces of toilet soap until you have quite a few different colors. Then take an ice pick and chip them into small pieces, or grate them on your large grater. (I like to mix all colors with a bar or two of another soft white bath soap.) Then take about one yard of cording,, double it and, with a little water, mold a ball of soap at the ends of this doubled cord so it can be hung in the shower faucet.

This idea is great for a rainy day. Sit the children around the kitchen table and let them mold turtles, cats, other animals and objects from this. They love to work with these little soap chips, and "Look Mom, CLEAN HANDS. . ."

HELEN BLAIR.

LETTER OF LAUGHTER

DEAR HELOISE: Bless your heart. You had me laughing at myself the other day. Talk about doing one household chore at a time. I had to make a mad dash to the store and was already in the car before I realized I still had the next load of dirty laundry in my arms . . .

It's a tough way to go!

SYLVIA ADAMS.

DEAR HELOISE: A palette for your budding artists can be made out of any size or shape of cardborad. Punch a hole for the artist's thumb to go through and squeeze several different colors on.

Makes them feel like professionals.

GAIL.

DEAR HELOISE: Awhile ago I noticed in your column that some lady wanted to know of any use for those plastic-covered wires that come off bread.

Well, I was about to bake a chicken last Sunday, and had it all stuffed and ready for the oven except for sewing it up. Then I found I had no coarse thrat or string. So I put my pins in as usual and held them together with two of those plastic wires twisted together.

It came out just fine.

MRS. B. PARREAULT.

DEAR HELOISE: I use the cardboard tubes from paper towels to mail cut flowers to my friends.

I line the tube with wax paper a little larger than the tube. Wrap the stems with a damp cloth to give them moisture, then push the flowers in alternating from each end. This way you can get more in the tube. Then fold over the ends of the wax paper and roll up the tube in wrapping paper for mailing.

If sent by air mail immediately, they will arrive at their destination quite successfully and will bloom very quickly when placed in water.

Daffodils and tulips are very good sent in this way and I have even sent rosebuds and violets successfully.

MRS. E. B. TAYLOR.

DEAR HELOISE: For the treasurers of clubs and church organizations, etc., who go frantic trying to roll coins in paper coin-rollers for the bank:

Open your telephone book in the middle, lay the paper roller in the crease, then lay your pennies on top of the paper.

The crease holds them while you roll up the coins.

JOHN C. YOUNG.

At Wellsville

Public Meeting Set On Trailers

A petition seeking restrictions on placement of house trailers was presented to Wellsville Council by Mrs. Kathy Haugh of 527 Commerce St. during the meeting Tuesday night at City Hall.

Sixty-nine names of Wellsville residents appeared on the petition, which asks restrictions on the distances required from other residents' property lines, from a road or throughway and within the confines of courts. It was read by Clerk Andrew Lynn.

Mrs. Haugh pointed out that those who signed the petition were not objecting to house trailers or their placement singly on personal property, but only in relation to the property lines of others.

A special public meeting will be held next Tuesday at 7 p.m. in City Hall for pros and cons on the situation, Wayne Rose, president, said.

TWO OTHER meetings have been set for tomorrow night—a public discussion at 7 on water and refuse rates and a closed session of the Finance Committee to discuss appropriations. Glenn Mathess is chairman of the committee.

Councilman James B. Phillips reported that a meeting had been held between representatives of Council and James Thrasher, owner of Jim's Pennzoil Station concerning the unloading and loading of trucks which blocked the sidewalk, at times forcing school children to walk in the street in the 17th St. area.

Phillips said Thrasher agreed to correct the situation as well as the excess water in the alley nearby where trucks are steamed and washed. He also said that Safety-Service Director Fred Baldasare has agreed to repairs to the alley when the situation is remedied.

A stop sign and one-way signs will be placed at the exit of the car wash at Johnson's Pontiac Sales opening onto Commerce St.

First reading was given an ordinance granting the Ohio Power Co. right-of-way over two sections of city-owned property for transmission lines.

—:—

THIRD and final reading was given an ordinance providing the city with $1,831 for "the perpetual care and upkeep" of the plot of the late Rebecca M. Mooney in Springhill Cemetery under an agreement with Richard Kennedy, executor of the estate.

Second reading was given a proposal to allow Baldasare to advertise for bids for materials required in the street program.

Council was notified officially of a request for a liquor license on behalf of Anna Rivelle for an establishment at 1303 Main St.

Adam Frischkorn of Route 39 addressed Council relative to the possibility of a byway over the sidewalk at the residence adjacent to the city building.

Councilmen Jack Call and Paul Todd were absent.

3-Way Crash Hurts Woman

A Beaver County woman complained of neck injuries after a three-way auto mishap Tuesday afternoon at 4:05 on Pennsylvania Ave. at Dewey Ave., police reported.

The "chain reaction" crash of three westbound vehicles involved a 1966 sedan operated by Mrs. Dorothy Williams, 40, of Industry RD 1, a 1964 sedan driven by Frank M. Kennan, 22, of S. Shady Ln. Dr., Fisher Park, and a car operated by Ronald E. Conrad, 30, of 909 Oak St.

Mrs. Williams complained of a possible whiplash injury, but said she would seek medical attention later, officers said. Conrad was cited on a charge of failure to stop in the assured clear distance by Patrolman Charles Coen, investigating officer.

Police said Mrs. Williams halted in a line of traffic and that Kennan's car was hit from the rear by Conrad's auto and shoved into the Williams car. There was damage to the rear of the Williams car, both the front and rear of the Kennan vehicle and the front of Conrad's auto.

A 48-year-old man was cited on a charge of leaving the scene of an accident after a collision Tuesday at 5:07 p.m. on W. 6th St. at Dresden Ave. that involved his auto and a transit bus.

William L. Fisher, 48, of LaCroft was cited by Patrolman James Woods following the accident that damaged the left rear of a 1947 model transit bus driven by Andrew H. Holtz, 57, of 201 Baum St. and the right front of Fisher's 1960 sedan.

Holtz told officers he was pulling to the curb to pick up passengers when his bus was hit from the rear. The other driver left the scene when Holtz went to report the accident, he said. He gave police a description of the auto and the license number.

Acting on the information, the officer found the car parked at a motel and cited Fisher.

Ohioville Area News

Mrs. Evelyn Richards

The Ohioville Republican Club will meet in the hall Thursday at 8 p.m.

Mrs. Everett Tennant of Fairview will be hostess to the Willing Workers Class of the New Salem United Presbyterian Church Friday night at 7:30.

Women of the church will prepare cancer bandages Thursday morning at the home of Mrs. Margaret Hetrick on the Lisbon Rd.

She was hostess Tuesday afternoon to members of Ruth Circle.

Fifty - seven members of the church choir and their guests attended a Saturday performance of the Ice Follies in Pittsburgh.

Greenburg Tells Of Duties In Talk To Rotary Here

"The most important things in business today are people."

So declared Leo Greenburg as he briefly outlined his duties as general manager of Mike Turk, Inc., at Tuesday's luncheon meeting of the Rotary Club at the Travelers Hotel.

Greenburg, born in Brooklyn and reared in Long Island, moved to East Liverpool 10 years ago. He is a new member of the club.

President Carl Pelini announced that the Rotary Ann affair will be held April 12.

He commended Frank A. Dawson, a Rotarian, on the distinguished service award which he received from Kent State University.

2 Are Honored For Service To Phone Company

Two local employes of the Ohio Bell Telephone Co. were honored during a service anniversary luncheon at noon today at the East Liverpool Country Club.

Mrs. Dale (Mary Ellen) Smith, a group chief operator, and Mrs. Kenneth (Rosemarie) Ensinger, an operator, received service pins from L. C. Bitler, division traffic manager, for years of service to the company.

Mrs. Smith, who resides at 501 Southview Dr., has been employed 30 years and Mrs. Ensinger of 604 Northside Ave. 20 years.

They were guests Monday of co-workers at a coverdish dinner in the office at 214 W. 5th St. A green color scheme prevailed.

Donald E. Poynter, district traffic manager, was among the guests at today's event.

The two women received yellow and bronze corsages.

The husbands of both are employed at the Midland Division of Colt Industries.

An interesting way to prepare a tomato aspic: Pour a thin layer of the tomato gelatin mixture into a mold and allow to set. Add a layer of cottage cheese mixed with minced chives and then pour on the rest of the tomato gelatin mixture. Chill until set. Unmold before serving and garnish with salad greens and pimiento - stuffed olives.

Man Fined At Lisbon

LISBON — Ralph W. Cloud, 28, of 302½ W. Maple St. was fined $100 ($50 suspended) and costs Tuesday night by Mayor Clyde B. Pike for driving while his operator's license was under suspension.

Joseph Kluth, 67, of Lisbon RD 5, involved in a traffic accident here Monday, pleaded "no contest" to a charge of failure to yield the right-of-way, but was found guilty and fined $15 and costs.

The meadowlark is not a lark but a member of the blackbird family.

HINTS FROM HELOISE

A Kitchen 'Brightener'

DEAR HELOISE: I live in an old house, have a batch of kids, and our kitchen table is old.

With all the kids I have, I cannot possibly wash and iron tablecloths every day. I hit upon an idea that should bring joy to your heart!

Heloise

I went to my dime store, bought some adhesive-backed plastic and cut out my own placemats.

But then — and here's the part that you'll love — I removed the back from the plastic and stuck each mat permanently to our kitchen table!

Now, I do not have to remove, wash and dry the individual placemats three times a day. All I do is take a sponge and wipe across the table top.

Believe it or not, it looks real pretty.

MOMMY.

-:-

Wow, that takes the cake for the month. Bless you. Cafes could also use this idea. Be real perk, too.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: Save small pieces of toilet soap until you have quite a few different colors. Then take an ice pick and chip them into small pieces, or grate them on your large grater. (I like to mix all colors with a bar or two of another soft white bath soap.) Then take about one yard of cording,, double it and, with a little water, mold a ball of soap at the ends of this doubled cord so it can be hung in the shower faucet.

This idea is great for a rainy day. Sit the children around the kitchen table and let them mold turtles, cats, other animals and objects from this. They love to work with these little soap chips, and "Look Mom, CLEAN HANDS. . ."

HELEN BLAIR.

LETTER OF LAUGHTER

DEAR HELOISE: Bless your heart. You had me laughing at myself the other day. Talk about doing one household chore at a time. I had to make a mad dash to the store and was already in the car before I realized I still had the next load of dirty laundry in my arms . . .

It's a tough way to go!

SYLVIA ADAMS.

DEAR HELOISE: A palette for your budding artists can be made out of any size or shape of cardborad. Punch a hole for the artist's thumb to go through and squeeze several different colors on.

Makes them feel like professionals.

GAIL.

DEAR HELOISE: Awhile ago I noticed in your column that some lady wanted to know of any use for those plastic-covered wires that come off bread.

Well, I was about to bake a chicken last Sunday, and had it all stuffed and ready for the oven except for sewing it up. Then I found I had no coarse thrat or string. So I put my pins in as usual and held them together with two of those plastic wires twisted together.

It came out just fine.

MRS. B. PARREAULT.

DEAR HELOISE: I use the cardboard tubes from paper towels to mail cut flowers to my friends.

I line the tube with wax paper a little larger than the tube. Wrap the stems with a damp cloth to give them moisture, then push the flowers in alternating from each end. This way you can get more in the tube. Then fold over the ends of the tube in wrapping paper for mailing.

If sent by air mail immediately, they will arrive at their destination quite successfully and will bloom very quickly when placed in water.

Daffodils and tulips are very good sent in this way and I have even sent rosebuds and violets successfully.

MRS. E. B. TAYLOR.

-:-

DEAR HELOISE: For the treasurers of clubs and church organizations, etc., who go frantic trying to roll coins in paper coin-rollers for the bank:

Open your telephone book in the middle, lay the paper roller in the crease, then lay your pennies on top of the paper.

The crease holds them while you roll up the coins.

JOHN C. YOUNG.

At Wellsville

Public Meeting Set On Trailers

A petition seeking restrictions on placement of house trailers was presented to Wellsville Council by Mrs. Kathy Haugh of 527 Commerce St. during the meeting Tuesday night at City Hall.

Sixty-nine names of Wellsville residents appeared on the petition, which asks restrictions on the distances required from other residents' property lines, from a road or throughway and within the confines of courts. It was read by Clerk Andrew Lynn.

Mrs. Haugh pointed out that those who signed the petition were not objecting to house trailers or their placement singly on personal property, but only in relation to the property lines of others.

A special public meeting will be held next Tuesday at 7 p.m. in City Hall for pros and cons on the situation, Wayne Rose, president, said.

TWO OTHER meetings have been set for tomorrow night—a public discussion at 7 on water and refuse rates and a closed session of the Finance Committee to discuss appropriations. Glenn Mathess is chairman of the committee.

Councilman James B. Phillips reported that a meeting had been held between representatives of Council and James Thrasher, owner of Jim's Pennzoil Station concerning the unloading and loading of trucks which blocked the sidewalk, at times forcing school children to walk in the street in the 17th St. area.

Phillips said Thrasher agreed to correct the situation as well as the excess water in the alley nearby where trucks are steamed and washed. He also said that Safety-Service Director Fred Baldasare has agreed to repairs to the alley when the situation is remedied.

A stop sign and one-way signs will be placed at the exit of the car wash at Johnson's Pontiac Sales opening onto Commerce St.

First reading was given an ordinance granting the Ohio Power Co. right-of-way over two sections of city-owned property for transmission lines.

—:—

THIRD and final reading was given an ordinance providing the city with $1,831 for "the perpetual care and upkeep" of the plot of the late Rebecca M. Mooney in Springhill Cemetery under an agreement with Richard Kennedy, executor of the estate.

Second reading was given a proposal to allow Baldasare to advertise for bids for materials required in the street program.

Council was notified officially of a request for a liquor license on behalf of Anna Rivelle for an establishment at 1303 Main St.

Adam Frischkorn of Route 39 addressed Council relative to the possibility of a byway over the sidewalk at the residence adjacent to the city building.

Councilmen Jack Call and Paul Todd were absent.

3-Way Crash Hurts Woman

A Beaver County woman complained of neck injuries after a three-way auto mishap Tuesday afternoon at 4:05 on Pennsylvania Ave. at Dewey Ave., police reported.

The "chain reaction" crash of three westbound vehicles involved a 1966 sedan operated by Mrs. Dorothy Williams, 40, of Industry RD 1, a 1964 sedan driven by Frank M. Kennan, 22, of S. Shady Ln. Dr., Fisher Park, and a car operated by Ronald E. Conrad, 30, of 909 Oak St.

Mrs. Williams complained of a possible whiplash injury, but said she would seek medical attention later, officers said. Conrad was cited on a charge of failure to stop in the assured clear distance by Patrolman Charles Coen, investigating officer.

Police said Mrs. Williams halted in a line of traffic and that Kennan's car was hit from the rear by Conrad's auto and shoved into the Williams car. There was damage to the rear of the Williams car, both the front and rear of the Kennan vehicle and the front of Conrad's auto.

A 48-year-old man was cited on a charge of leaving the scene of an accident after a collision Tuesday at 5:07 p.m. on W. 6th St. at Dresden Ave. that involved his auto and a transit bus.

William L. Fisher, 48, of LaCroft was cited by Patrolman James Woods following the accident that damaged the left rear of a 1947 model transit bus driven by Andrew H. Holtz, 57, of 201 Baum St. and the right front of Fisher's 1960 sedan.

Holtz told officers he was pulling to the curb to pick up passengers when his bus was hit from the rear. The other driver left the scene when Holtz went to report the accident, he said. He gave police a description of the auto and the license number.

Acting on the information, the officer found the car parked at a motel and cited Fisher.

Today In History

Today is Wednesday, March 19, the 78th day of 1969. There are 287 days left in the year.

On this date in 1920, the U.S. Senate rejected the Versailles treaty providing for a League of Nations. The vote set the tone for a decade of U.S. isolationist policy.

In 1628, the English founded the Massachusetts colony.

In 1860, William Jennings Bryan, nominated three times for the presidency, was born in Salem, Ill.

In 1918, the U.S. Supreme Court upheld the Constitutionality of the Adamson Act, which reduced the working day of all railroad employes to eight hours.

Pope To Visit Africa To Consecrate Shrine

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope Paul VI will visit East Africa in July to consecrate a shrine to African martyrs in Kampala, Uganda, and attend a conference of African bishops there.

The Pope announced today that he would make his seventh trip outside Italy since he was elected six years ago. He said the trip to Uganda would be "rapid," indicating that he didn't plan to stop in any other African country. It was believed that the pontiff feared political implications would be read into any other stops.

Pope To Visit Africa To Consecrate Shrine

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope Paul VI will visit East Africa in July to consecrate a shrine to African martyrs in Kampala, Uganda, and attend a conference of African bishops there.

The Pope announced today that he would make his seventh trip outside Italy since he was elected six years ago. He said the trip to Uganda would be "rapid," indicating that he didn't plan to stop in any other African country. It was believed that the pontiff feared political implications would be read into any other stops.

Trainer Sets Mayor Race In Midland

Lester Trainer of Midland Tuesday withdrew his petition to seek the Democrat collector nomination in Midland in favor of running against incumbent Mayor Elj Corak for the party's mayoralty nomination.

Yesterday was the final day for candidates to withdraw nominations.

Trainer had filed for both posts prior to the deadline March 4.

Michael Raich also withdrew from the Midland Democrat tax collector race in the May 20 primary. Candidates still listed for the party nomination are Joseph D'Alesio, Ray Presutti, John Perkins Jr., Michael Tepovich, Rudy Zetz, and Mrs. Dorothy Spisak.

Atty. Frank Suffoletta withdrew from the Democrat contest for nomination as Justice of the Peace in District 2-2 which serves the Midland-Beaver area. Eight candidates remain in the race.

Three Placed On Probation In Auto Theft

LISBON — An East Liverpool youth and two from Salem were placed on probation for auto theft Tuesday by Judge Louis Tobin in Juvenile Court.

The East Liverpool youth, 14, last week admitted taking a car owned by Charles Hicks of East Liverpool from the City Hospital parking lot on Feb. 18.

A hearing for a 15-year-old accomplice is scheduled Tuesday.

The Salem boys, 15 and 14, admitted taking a car owned by Bernard Smith of Salem on Feb. 7. The 15-year-old was charged originally with five auto thefts, but only the one case was heard.

Judge Tobin fined each of the boys $50, of which $25 from each is to go to the Child Counseling Center in East Liverpool.

All were placed on curfew, ordered not to ride with anyone except their parents and to attend school and church regularly and report weekly to the court probation officer.

Planning

mitted a proposal only one day before.

John Ursu, former county engineer, reported he had received no complaints while in office and said, according to his investigation, only one major county subdivision had been accepted in the year period prior to adoption of the regulations.

He displayed photographs of some of the roads accepted by the county the year before the regulations which showed them without adequate base or clearance.

O. A. Naragon of Salem said effective subdivision regulations were vital to the proper development of an area, and said although some developers might complain, they would follow the requirements to the benefit of the county. He said stricter enforcemen was being undertaken by the Salem Planning Commission to prevent "cheap" developments which would be detrimental to good housing and real estate growth.

ED WILHELM said the committee proposed the changes offered them only in hopes that procedures could be expedited and that some standards could be changed to permit more developments.

Herb Thompson of St. Clair Township said the committee had studied the situation and its recommendations should be fully considered.

Richard Sanford of Liverpool Township, chairman of the original committee that prepared the regulations, said he had received no complaints about them, pointing out the committee spent two years revising them and consulting with realtors, developers and engineers. He said he believed the regulations should be given a longer opportunity to prove adequate.

At Ursu's suggestion, it was agreed to continue the present regulations and to file the committee's report for future study.

Floyd Lower, president, was in charge. Tait Hilbert and Frank Mangano, new East Liverpool representatives on th commission, were present.

'Clean Intention,' Judge Comments In Theft Of Soap

"A man who steals a bar of soap must have clean intentions, at least," Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff commented today before sentencing a Chester man to a suspended 10-day jail term on a petty larceny charge and fining him $15 and costs on an intoxication charge.

The defendant was Richard Bennett of Post Office Box 104, Chester, charged with stealing a 10-cent bar of soap Monday night at Al's Atlantic Station on E. 3rd St. Lt. Robert B. Pyle and Patrolmen James Woods, who took custody of Bennett from Al Gloeckner, owner of the station, also booked him on an intoxication charge. Woods said the officers found Gloeckner holding Bennett prostrate on the lot outside the station.

Gloeckner said Bennett paid 36 cents for a loaf of bread, but also walked out with the soap concealed in his pocket. Bennett declined to testify, but told the judge he thought he had paid for the soap. Gloeckner testified that Bennett put up a struggle when accused of the theft and had to be detained until police arrived.

Purse Loser Lucky All The Way Around

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — While fishing at Lake Cumberland in May 1966, Mrs. Jack Fitzwater dropped her billfold. The water was deep and the search futile.

In June 1968, she and Patrolman Jack Fitzwater were married and returned to the lake. Dam repairs had necesitated lowering the water level so Mrs. Fitzwater made another search for the wallet. No luck.

Recently she received a package from Dr. H. P. Thrasher, a veterinarian living near the lake, who explained he had found the billfold almost buried in mud at the lake.

Among the contents was a ticket on horse No. 8 in the seventh race at Churchhill Downs May 7, 1966.

That was the Kentucky Derby and the Horse was Kauai King. In addition to recovering her purse, Mrs. Kitzwater was $6.80 richer after cashing the ticket.

The octopus has eight and only eight arms — never more and never less — in contrast to its relative, the squid, which has 10.

SUGAR MAY NOT SHOW IN THE URINE

It is the oversupply of sugar in the blood, not in the urine, that constitutes diabetes. When the blood sugar level is high some of it, not all, spills over into the urine.

The sugar test for urine is good and easy. It can detect many, but not everybody who has diabetes. Many older persons have elevated blood sugar with no urine sugar. Has your physician checked your blood this year? If you have a family history with diabetes, better see him.

Budget Okayed For Cumberland

NEW CUMBERLAND—Council approved a budget of $42,054 for the fiscal year Tuesday night.

A complete breakdown will be released later this week. The budget does include a $50-a-month raise for Police Chief William Webster, bringing his salary to $550 a month.

The financial statement was completed on Monday and approved last night by the finance committee — Dean Chamberlain, Second Ward, chairman, and Lawrence Andrews and Robert Mills, both of the First Ward.

Minor Damage Listed In Wellsville Mishap

Minor damage resulted to two autos involved in a rearend collision Tuesday at 5:05 p. m. in the parking lot of the Mason's IGA Foodliner in Wellsville.

Wellsville police reported they were told a 1968 coupe operated by Kenneth E. Burlingame of Calcutta was struck in the rear by a 1959 coach driven by Edward G. Zelasko of 1142 Main St., Wellsville, when Burlingame halted at the exit of the lot for traffic.

Trainer Sets Mayor Race In Midland

Lester Trainer of Midland Tuesday withdrew his petition to seek the Democrat collector nomination in Midland in favor of running against incumbent Mayor Elj Corak for the party's mayoralty nomination.

Yesterday was the final day for candidates to withdraw nominations.

Trainer had filed for both posts prior to the deadline March 4.

Michael Raich also withdrew from the Midland Democrat tax collector race in the May 20 primary. Candidates still listed for the party nomination are Joseph D'Alesio, Ray Presutti, John Perkins Jr., Michael Tepovich, Rudy Zetz, and Mrs. Dorothy Spisak.

Atty. Frank Suffoletta withdrew from the Democrat contest for nomination as Justice of the Peace in District 2-2 which serves the Midland-Beaver area. Eight candidates remain in the race.

Three Placed On Probation In Auto Theft

LISBON — An East Liverpool youth and two from Salem were placed on probation for auto theft Tuesday by Judge Louis Tobin in Juvenile Court.

The East Liverpool youth, 14, last week admitted taking a car owned by Charles Hicks of East Liverpool from the City Hospital parking lot on Feb. 18.

A hearing for a 15-year-old accomplice is scheduled Tuesday.

The Salem boys, 15 and 14, admitted taking a car owned by Bernard Smith of Salem on Feb. 7. The 15-year-old was charged originally with five auto thefts, but only the one case was heard.

Judge Tobin fined each of the boys $50, of which $25 from each is to go to the Child Counseling Center in East Liverpool.

All were placed on curfew, ordered not to ride with anyone except their parents and to attend school and church regularly and report weekly to the court probation officer.

Highlandtown Area News

HIGHLANDTOWN — A program, "The Color of Man," was presented by Mrs. Betty Wilson, spiritual chairman, during the Highlandtown-No. 16 Parent - Teacher Association meeting Monday night at the Highlandtown School.

Participating with Mrs. Wilson were Mrs. Jolene Catrell, Mrs. Carol Householder, Mrs. Charlene Sargent and Mrs. Margery Smith. Dennis Miller screened a film.

Second grade pupils under the direction of Mrs. Gladys Boyd and Mrs. Evelyn Morrow provided musical entertainment. Mrs. Ruth Hatcher was at the piano.

The Rev. Ralph Chambers of the Highlandtown and Salineville United Methodist Churches led devotions. Mrs. Judy Mikanik conducted the business session.

Mrs. Patsy Miller, leader, reported on the activities and progress of Brownie Troop 557 sponsored by the PTA.

Mrs. Householder, Mrs. Alice Donaldson and Mrs. Smith were named to the nominating committee.

The group will sponsor a public meeting to inform voters on the bond issue to be presented to Southern Local district residents at the May 6 primary.

The room count was won by Mrs. Boyd and Mrs. Morrow's second-grade rooms.

Refreshments were served by the second - grade mothers.

Officers will be elected April 21 at the No. 16 School.

Planning

mitted a proposal only one day before.

John Ursu, former county engineer, reported he had received no complaints while in office and said, according to his investigation, only one major county subdivision had been accepted in the year period prior to adoption of the regulations.

He displayed photographs of some of the roads accepted by the county the year before the regulations which showed them without adequate base or clearance.

O. A. Naragon of Salem said effective subdivision regulations were vital to the proper development of an area, and said although some developers might complain, they would follow the requirements to the benefit of the county. He said stricter enforcement was being undertaken by the Salem Planning Commission to prevent "cheap" developments which would be detrimental to good housing and real estate growth.

ED WILHELM said the committee proposed the changes offered them only in hopes that procedures could be expedited and that some standards could be changed to permit more developments.

Herb Thompson of St. Clair Township said the committee had studied the situation and its recommendations should be fully considered.

Richard Sanford of Liverpool Township, chairman of the original committee that prepared the regulations, said he had received no complaints about them, pointing out the committee spent two years revising them and consulting with realtors, developers and engineers. He said he believed the regulations should be given a longer opportunity to prove adequate.

At Ursu's suggestion, it was agreed to continue the present regulations and to file the committee's report for future study.

Floyd Lower, president, was in charge. Tait Hilbert and Frank Mangano, new East Liverpool representatives on th commission, were present.

'Clean Intention,' Judge Comments In Theft Of Soap

"A man who steals a bar of soap must have clean intentions, at least," Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff commented today before sentencing a Chester man to a suspended 10-day jail term on a petty larceny charge and fining him $15 and costs on an intoxication charge.

The defendant was Richard Bennett of Post Office Box 104, Chester, charged with stealing a 10-cent bar of soap Monday night at Al's Atlantic Station on E. 3rd St. Lt. Robert B. Pyle and Patrolmen James Woods, who took custody of Bennett from Al Gloeckner, owner of the station, also booked him on an intoxication charge. Woods said the officers found Gloeckner holding Bennett prostrate on the lot outside the station.

Gloeckner said Bennett paid 36 cents for a loaf of bread, but also walked out with the soap concealed in his pocket. Bennett declined to testify, but told the judge he thought he had paid for the soap. Gloeckner testified that Bennett put up a struggle when accused of the theft and had to be detained until police arrived.

Purse Loser Lucky All The Way Around

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — While fishing at Lake Cumberland in May 1966, Mrs. Jack Fitzwater dropped her billfold. The water was deep and the search futile.

In June 1968, she and Patrolman Jack Fitzwater were married and returned to the lake. Dam repairs had necesitated lowering the water level so Mrs. Fitzwater made another search for the wallet. No luck.

Recently she received a package from Dr. H. P. Thrasher, a veterinarian living near the lake, who explained he had found the billfold almost buried in mud at the lake.

Among the contents was a ticket on horse No. 8 in the seventh race at Churchhill Downs May 7, 1966.

That was the Kentucky Derby and the Horse was Kauai King. In addition to recovering her purse, Mrs. Kitzwater was $6.80 richer after cashing the ticket.

The octopus has eight and only eight arms — never more and never less — in contrast to its relative, the squid, which has 10.

SUGAR MAY NOT SHOW IN THE URINE

It is the oversupply of sugar in the blood, not in the urine, that constitutes diabetes. When the blood sugar level is high some of it, not all, spills over into the urine.

The sugar test for urine is good and easy. It can detect many, but not everybody who has diabetes. Many older persons have elevated blood sugar with no urine sugar. Has your physician checked your blood this year? If you have a family history with diabetes, better see him.

Veteran Wins Leniency For Traffic Case

A 48-year-old World War II veteran today was granted an indefinite continuance in sentencing on a hit-skip charge in Municipal Court to permit him to return to a Pittsburgh hospital for treatment of an old gunshot wound.

William L. Fisher of LaCroft pleaded guilty before Judge Samuel M. Chertoff on a charge of leaving the scene of an accident. He was found not guilty on a second charge of intoxication.

Fisher told the court he was on a one-day leave from a Veterans Administration Hospital, where he has been a patient since October, undergoing bone grafts in the right arm as a result of a World War II wound. He was due to return to the hospital today. He appeared in court with his arm in a cast.

The court ordered Fisher to return for sentencing when he is released from the hospital. He was accused of driving away after his car hit a bus on W. 6th St. Tuesday.

Ronald E. Conrad of Oak St., whose auto was involved in a Pennsylvania Ave. mishap Tuesday, was fined $15 and costs on a charge of failure ot stop in the assured clear distance.

Kermit Mather of Amherst forfeited a $17.50 bond on a charge of crashing a stop sign. He was cited by the Ohio Highway Patrol Tuesday at 4:45 p.m. on Route 7.

Paul Thomas Campbell, 23, of 12th St., Wellsville, was fined $10 and costs on a charge of crashing a stop sign on Campground Rd. He was cited Sunday at 1:30 p.m. by Constable Thomas Edgell of Liverpool Township.

Harry Noval, 45, of 519 E. 3rd St. was fined $10 and costs on a charge of failure to stop for a stop sign at Walnut St. and St. Clair Ave. He was cited Tuesday at 2:35 a. m. by Patrolman H. Clyde Dillon.

Telephone Language Charge To Face Man

Lloyd Hendershot of 909½ Vine St. is scheduled for a hearing before Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff Friday morning on a charge alleging he made a telephone call to an unnamed person for the purpose of harassing the other person.

The court set Hendershot's appearance bond at $500. He appeared with George A. Aronson as his counsel. No plea was entered.

Police reported Hendershot was taken into custody Tuesday night at 10:30 on Walnut St. by Lt. Robert B. Pyle and Det. William A. Devon. Officers declined to discuss the case prior to the hearing.

Newell Lions Induct Two

Lloyd Ferrell and Dennis Rayburn were inducted as members when the Newell Lions Club met Monday night in the Holiday Inn at Waterford Park.

District Gov. Albert Logston officiated for the ceremonies.

Penalties Fixed In Traffic Cases

LISBON — Thomas W. Johnston of Southeast Blvd., Salem, was ordered to surrender his driver's license for 60 days after pleading guilty Tuesday in Columbiana County Southwest Court to a charge of driving while under the influence of alcohol.

Judge J. L. MacDonald also fined him $200 and costs and sentenced him to three days in the County Jail.

Douglas G. Gordon of Cleveland was fined on three counts—speeding and exhibiting operator's license belonging to another person, $25 each, and operating vehicle with registration plates belonging to another vehicle, $20.

Also fined were Harry E. Reisinger, Lisbon, and Leona M. Evans, Lisbon RD 4, both charged with driving unsafe vehicles, $25 each; Robert E. Roberts, Lisbon RD 2, and Lawrence H. Sprouse, Salineville, both cited for speeding, $25 each, and Paul L. Crowl, Lisbon, speeding, $15.

Forfeiting appearance bonds were Robert R. Farmer of Ashland, Ky., and John H. Riffle of Cleveland, both charged with speeding, $30 each, and Homer R. Unkefer of Minerva, stop sign violation, $15.

$240 In Tools, Truck Stolen In Salem Area

LISBON — Thieves broke into the Peoples Lumber Co. supply yard and building on Snyder Rd. south of Salem Tuesday night and took about $240 worth of tools and an orange - colored 1966 Chevrolet pickup truck.

Robert W. Campblel, president, said the truck was loaded with lumber but the burglars unloaded it before leaving. They also took a can of beige paint and probably used it to paint over "Peoples Lumber" on the truck doors, he said.

Sheriff's Deputy Howard Gray is investigating. The intruders broke the railroad siding gate to get in the lumber yard, then broke into the building to get the tools. Peoples Lumber also had a burglary Dec. 13.

Wounded Private Phones Parents, Due In U.S. Soon

A reassuring telephone call from Japan was received Tuesday night by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ibbs of 315 Burrows Ave. from their son, Pfc. Robert Allen Ibbs, who was severely wounded March 9 in Vietnam.

A telegram received this morning listed Ibbs condition as "good."

He told his parents that he had been moved from a Saigon hospital to the 106th General Hospital at Yokohama, Japan, and after a stay of several weeks will be returned to the United States.

He suffered fragmentation wounds of both legs and thights, the chest and right hand as well as fractures of the right fingers when an enemy booby trap exploded while he was serving with the 25th Infantry Division. He also told his family that he had sustained stomach wounds which were not mentioned in the original telegram.

75 Attend Dinner For City School Evaluation Team

About 75 attended a dinner at East Liverpool High School Tuesday afternoon to meet the members of the North Central Association evaluating team now visiting city schools.

Present were the high school teachers, administrative personnel, board of education members and the 22-member evaluating team.

George Trombitis, principal at Leetonia High School and chairman of the team, said he hoped the East Liverpool school personnel would "get as much out of the evaluation as he expected the team to receive."

The evaluation is used as the basis of determining if a school is meeting state minimum standards and will receive accreditation as by the North Central Association of Colleges and secondary Schools.

The team will be in East Liverpool today and tomorrow. The committee in charge of the dinner and arrangements for the study is Mrs. Kathleen Hissam, chairman, Jack Oughton, Mrs. Ruth Conner, Miss Patty Beck and James Martin, assisted by Alton Dobson, high school principal.

Workers Back On Job In Dispute At T.S.T.

Employes of the Taylor, Smith and Taylor Co. at Chester returned to work this morning following a walkout Tuesday about noon.

The dispute, which resulted in a production stoppage for the remainder of the day, was termed "illegal" by company officials, who did not disclose the cause.

Unofficial sources said the employes were sent home following a walkout by kilnplacers.

Berserk Janitor Kills 3, Wounds 6, Hangs Himself

MEXICO CITY (AP) — A berserk janitor killed three persons and wounded six others in a shooting spree at the Ethiopian Embassy Tuesday night, then hanged himself in a dingy hotel early this morning, police said.

The ambassador's wife was among the dead and his two small children were wounded seriously.

Police said the killer, Bermanu Afework, 30, was found hanging by a cord taken from a venetian blind in a hotel room three hours after his rampage. They were called by the hotel manager, who said the Ethiopian rushed in shortly after midnight and booked a room.

A knife and a gun were in his pockets, police said.

Hearing Planned For City Woman

Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff today scheduled a hearing Friday morning for Mrs. Virginia F. Berkhimer of 804 Morton St., accused of violating the state's compulsory school attendance law by "unlawfully, willfully and negligently" failing to send her son to school.

The charge was filed by George L. Miller, school attendance officer. The warrant was served on Mrs. Berkhimer Tuesday at 5:05 p.m. by police. She was given a continuance today when she asked time to obtain counsel.

A copy of a letter attached to the affidavit, allegedly a communication to Mrs. Berkhimer from school authorities, said her son, Fritz, was absent from school 14 days in February and 10 days to date in March.

The affidavit said she failed to send her son to school "pursuant to Ohio Rvised Code Section 3321.04 after being duly notified of his absences from school by the principal on March 17.

Bycroft School Closed

LISBON — The Robert Bycroft School for Retarded Children will be closed the remainder of the week for the plumbing inspection and test which began Monday, Mrs. Edith Martsolf, administrator, announced this morning.

Delicious to serve with cold cuts: kidney beans (from a can) mixed with enough wine vinegar and brown sugar to make sweet-and-sour. Add a little finely chopped sweet onion if you like. And drain the kidney beans and rinse under cold water before using. This combination is, of course, served cold.

Forfeiting appearance bonds were Robert R. Farmer of Ashland, Ky., and John H. Riffle of Cleveland, both charged with speeding, $30 each, and Homer R. Unkefer of Minerva, stop sign violation, $15.

$240 In Tools, Truck Stolen In Salem Area

LISBON — Thieves broke into the Peoples Lumber Co. supply yard and building on Snyder Rd. south of Salem Tuesday night and took about $240 worth of tools and an orange - colored 1966 Chevrolet pickup truck.

Robert W. Campblel, president, said the truck was loaded with lumber but the burglars unloaded it before leaving. They also took a can of beige paint and probably used it to paint over "Peoples Lumber" on the truck doors, he said.

Sheriff's Deputy Howard Gray is investigating. The intruders broke the railroad siding gate to get in the lumber yard, then broke into the building to get the tools. Peoples Lumber also had a burglary Dec. 13.

Wounded Private Phones Parents, Due In U.S. Soon

A reassuring telephone call from Japan was received Tuesday night by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ibbs of 315 Burrows Ave. from their son, Pfc. Robert Allen Ibbs, who was severely wounded March 9 in Vietnam.

A telegram received this morning listed Ibbs condition as "good."

He told his parents that he had been moved from a Saigon hospital to the 106th General Hospital at Yokohama, Japan, and after a stay of several weeks will be returned to the United States.

He suffered fragmentation wounds of both legs and thights, the chest and right hand as well as fractures of the right fingers when an enemy booby trap exploded while he was serving with the 25th Infantry Division. He also told his family that he had sustained stomach wounds which were not mentioned in the original telegram.

75 Attend Dinner For City School Evaluation Team

About 75 attended a dinner at East Liverpool High School Tuesday afternoon to meet the members of the North Central Association evaluating team now visiting city schools.

Present were the high school teachers, administrative personnel, board of education members and the 22-member evaluating team.

George Trombitis, principal at Leetonia High School and chairman of the team, said he hoped the East Liverpool school personnel would "get as much out of the evaluation as he expected the team to receive."

The evaluation is used as the basis of determining if a school is meeting state minimum standards and will receive accreditation as by the North Central Association of Colleges and secondary Schools.

The team will be in East Liverpool today and tomorrow. The committee in charge of the dinner and arrangements for the study is Mrs. Kathleen Hissam, chairman, Jack Oughton, Mrs. Ruth Conner, Miss Patty Beck and James Martin, assisted by Alton Dobson, high school principal.

Dinner, Dance Will Be Held At Hookstown Post

Plans have been made by the Auxiliary of South Side Post 952 at Hookstown for a dinner April 5 in observance of the American Legion's 50th birthday.

The event will begin at 6:30, with Joe Scoff and his band playing for dancing at 9.

Reservations and tickets are available through Legion or Auxiliary members. Those interested may contact Mrs. Harold Andrews, Mrs. Charles Wright, Jack Waugaman or Joe Barile.

Plans also were made for a style show and card party April 25 at 7:30, with the public invited.

Easter flowers and socks were sent to the Veterans Hospital at Butler.

Announcement also was made of the teen record hop to be held Friday at 8 p.m. at the hall in Hookstown.

Workers Back On Job In Dispute At T.S.T.

Employes of the Taylor, Smith and Taylor Co. at Chester returned to work this morning following a walkout Tuesday about noon.

The dispute, which resulted in a production stoppage for the remainder of the day, was termed "illegal" by company officials, who did not disclose the cause.

Unofficial sources said the employes were sent home following a walkout by kilnplacers.

Berserk Janitor Kills 3, Wounds 6, Hangs Himself

MEXICO CITY (AP) — A berserk janitor killed three persons and wounded six others in a shooting spree at the Ethiopian Embassy Tuesday night, then hanged himself in a dingy hotel early this morning, police said.

The ambassador's wife was among the dead and his two small children were wounded seriously.

Police said the killer, Bermanu Afework, 30, was found hanging by a cord taken from a venetian blind in a hotel room three hours after his rampage. They were called by the hotel manager, who said the Ethiopian rushed in shortly after midnight and booked a room.

A knife and a gun were in his pockets, police said.

Hearing Planned For City Woman

Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff today scheduled a hearing Friday morning for Mrs. Virginia F. Berkhimer of 804 Morton St., accused of violating the state's compulsory school attendance law by "unlawfully, willfully and negligently" failing to send her son to school.

The charge was filed by George L. Miller, school attendance officer. The warrant was served on Mrs. Berkhimer Tuesday at 5:05 p.m. by police. She was given a continuance today when she asked time to obtain counsel.

A copy of a letter attached to the affidavit, allegedly a communication to Mrs. Berkhimer from school authorities, said her son, Fritz, was absent from school 14 days in February and 10 days to date in March.

The affidavit said she failed to send her son to school "pursuant to Ohio Rvised Code Section 3321.04 after being duly notified of his absences from school by the principal on March 17.

Bycroft School Closed

LISBON — The Robert Bycroft School for Retarded Children will be closed the remainder of the week for the plumbing inspection and test which began Monday, Mrs. Edith Martsolf, administrator, announced this morning.

Delicious to serve with cold cuts: kidney beans (from a can) mixed with enough wine vinegar and brown sugar to make sweet-and-sour. Add a little finely chopped sweet onion if you like. And drain the kidney beans and rinse under cold water before using. This combination is, of course, served cold.

Army Upsets South Carolina In NIT, Boston College Wins

NEW YORK (AP) — After every surprising basketball victory, Coach Bobby Knight of Army has to defend his rugged Cadets against critics who label them "butchers, hackers and slashers."

But the Cadets looked like a bunch of tip-toeing Lord Fauntleroys Tuesday night compared to the scrap between Boston College and Louisville in Madison Square Garden.

After the Cadets once again used their hard-working defense for a methodically unexciting 59-45 upset over South Carolina in the quarter-finals of the National Invitation Tournament, BC and Louisville did the slapping, slashing and even fighting before BC staggered away with a 88-83 triumph.

The victories matched Army and the Eagles in Thursday night's semifinals, with Monday night's winners, Temple and Tennessee, clashing in the other games. The final is Saturday afternoon.

"We've been accused of being butchers, hackers and slashers on defense, but I don't think we foul any more than the other teams," said Knight, whose bruising Cadets, without a man more than 6-foot-6, have won eight straight in an 18-8 season to become the surprise team in the semis.

Frank McGuire, coach of South Carolina, 21-7, certainly didn't criticize the best defense in the country the last two years.

"Army is a better team than it is given credit for," he said after the Cadets pulled away to a 31-25 halftime lead.

The Gamecocks' ace, John Roche, managed only 16 points.

Jim Oxley scored 16 points and Dick Simmons 14 in their usual balanced offense to lead Army.

But Army's way of play was forgotten by the time BC and Louisville finished colliding in a ragged rough-and-tumble, racehorse game marred by 39 fouls and a fight.

"It was not an artistic success," confessed Bob Cousey, the BC coach after the Eagles' 18th straight victory in a 23-3 season

In the end, it was the play of 6-7 Terry Driscoll, with 29 points and 22 rebounds, and 6-0 Billy Evans, with 15 points and 13 assists, who made the difference. Louisville's Jerry King had 27 points.

Early in the final half Vic Costello of BC tried to battle his way through a screen set by Louisville's Ed Linonis.

Costello called it an illegal block and "I made up my mind I wasn't going to get burned. I hit him twice," he said.

Both benches emptied and the shoving that followed sent several players tumbling into the stands. Linonis and Costello were ejected.

McMeans 1st Team Class A All-Ohio

By HAL PARIS
Associated Press Sports Writer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The state's small school basketball stars came in for their share of glory today as The Associated Press named its Class A All-Ohio high school team.

Dan Thallman, a 6 - foot - 6 phenom from Bloomville, won honors as the Class A Player of the Year.

The senior center led Bloomville to a 21-2 season with a 32.7 point average and 22 rebounds a game.

Much-sought after by the colleges, Thallman rang up 1,550 points in a brilliant three-year career and was a standout on defense.

The Dragons' star is joined on the first unit by Ted Sizemore of New Lebanon Dixie; Art "Butch" Haswell of Strasburg; Bill McMeans of North Lima; Jeff Reisinger of Ross Zane Trace and Ty Crawmer of Licking Valley.

Reisinger and Crawmer are juniors, the others seniors.

Sizemore, a standout for Dixie, all season, scored at a 24.1 clip while Reisinger was the big gun that carried Zane Trace to an unbeaten season until Portsmouth Clay upset the Ross County school in the regional final at Athens. Reisinger averaged 22.5 points.

Haswell, an excellent floor man with a 19 point average, kept Strasburg in the No. 1 ranked position all season before his team fell in district play to Garaway.

Crawmer, a 24 point shooter, was the big spark in Licking Valley's attack while the 6 - 7 McMeans rammed home 31 a contest for North Lima.

Third team:

Honorable mention — Mark Thompson, Bridgeport; Steve Vitchner, Warren Consolidated; Jeff May, Jefferson (Adams County); Andy Richmond, Lynchburg Clay; Rick Fulton, Seaman; Denny Luyster, Lakeland Freeport; Bob Zitzelberger, Yorkville; Lou Burk, Bridgeport; Rob Carter, Southern Local; Dewey McKay, Brilliant; Tim Miller, Garaway; Kim Sedwick, Garaway; Larry Millon, Trenton; Larry Bunger, Twin Valley North; Don Goodfellow, Yellow Springs; Terry Thomas, Greeneview; Gary Dees, New Miami; Keith New, Middletown Fenwick; Dave Gray, Arcanum; Dave Maurer, Columbus Wehrle; Royce Woolover, Logan Elm; Ben Pemberton, Heath; Greg Bigam, Westfall; Don Fausnaugh, Logan Elm; Steve Kinser, Amanda; Rick Thomas, Granville; Nat Coe, Columbus Academy; Dave Riffel, Heath.

Dalynn Badenhop, Archbold; Jim Kern, Collins Western Reserve; Tim Perrine, Payne; Neil Jordan, Hopewell, Loudon; Greg Schifer, Wynford; Ken Heiby, Fort Recovery; Jim Clark, Plymouth; Chuck Nafzinger, Pettisville; Mary Wourms, St. Henry; Steve Wake, Mansfield St. Peter; Dave Blevins, Portsmouth Clay Dave Juenger, Unioto; Ken Williams, Miller; Dan Ratcliffe, Ross Zane Trace; Bob Craft, Portsmouth East; Dave Daniels Hannan Trace; Paul Kaut, Portsmouth Clay; Ron Ward, Mogadore; Ken Thompson, Smithville; Tom Davis, East Canton; Frank Miksa, Lorain St. Mary; Kevin O'Brief, Kirtland Greg Wilson, Sebring; Grant Parks, Springfield Local; Dwight Rucker, Wellington; Steve Longbrake, Upper Scioto Valley; Gene Ford, Indian Valley North.

Ohio State did not repeat as Big 10 basketball champions this year, finishing tied for second, but the Buckeyes did well in other winter sports.

OSU won the league fencing title and went 11-4 overall. Indoor track, swimming and gymnastics had winning records and wrestling broke even. Only ice hockey, with 11-18 mark, was under .500. The icers losses included a 20-0 pasting by Lake Superior State (which was certainly superior that night), while the wins included an 18-1 trouncing of Tennessee. The Bucks dropped three out of four against both Ohio U. and Bowling Green, but beat Ohio Wesleyan twice.

MARTIN LUCKI, star flanker on the Bellaire St. John's football team, has signed a letter-of-intent to Ohio State.

OF THE 13,497 seats in St. John Arena at Columbus, where the state high school basketball finals are played, 3,000 are set aside for "some executives of the state department of education", according to OHSAA figures.

THERE'S NO justice, but too much Justus, was the cry of Ohio U. fans after the Bobcats' 75-64 loss to Tennessee in the NIT Monday night. The Volunteer's cashed in on 37 of 42 foul shots, with Bill Justus hitting 18 in a row and 22 of 23 overall.

TWO BEAVER COUNTY players have been named to the West Penn squad for the preliminary game in the Dapper Dan Roundball Classic to be played March 28 at the Pittsburgh Civic Arena. Mike Karas of Hopewell and Ken Wlcek of Center were those chosen. The Pennsylvania squad for the main game has not yet been completed.

JIM FEDERICK of East Rochester and Tom Crook of New Waterford are members of the golf team at Malone College in Canton.

EMMETT TAYLOR, Ohio U.'s ace quartermiler, is on the cover of the 1969 NCAA Track and Field Guide. Unfortunately, Taylor is ineligible for outdoor track this spring.

Early Bird Gets The Ace

The old saying, "The Early Bird Gets The Worm", was proved in the case of Richard Waite of 129 Sanford Ave. yesterday.

Taking advantage of some unseasonably warm weather, Waite went out to the Beaver Creek Par 3 Golf Course on Route 7 and scored a hole-in-one, sinking a nine iron on the 110-yard fifth hole. He was accompanied by his 13-year-old son Kim, who had scored a hole-in-one two years ago.

Drake Will Run With UCLA

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Coach Maury John of Drake doesn't plan a slowdown or a stall against top-ranked UCLA and its superstar, Lew Alcindor, when the free-wheeling Bulldogs clash with the Bruins in the semifinals of the NCAA basketball championships Thursday night.

The Uclans, 27-1 and aiming for a record third-straight national title, will be heavy favorites against Drake, 25-4, in the second game of a doubleheader. Fourth-ranked North Carolina, 27-3, meets No. 6 Purdue, 22-4, in the opener of the twinbill at 7:40 p.m., EST. The survivors play for the championship Saturday at 4:15 p.m. All games will be televised by NBC-TV.

John, John Wooden of UCLA, Dean Smith of North Carolina and George King of Purdue were interviewed in a long distance telephone hookup Tuesday before embarking for Louisville.

John said, "I realize we're playing a super team, but I don't plan to make any drastic changes in our style of play. The only thing, perhaps, is that we may be a little more conservative offensively. I feel we have the ability to score."

Willie McCarter, a senior guard, is the Drake star.

"Willie has developed into a more complete player," John said. "He's an excellent outside shooter, he's quick, and he's averaging seven assists and 20 points per game. He's the backbone of our club."

Wooden maintained that he has a five-man team, not a one-man gang but he admitted, "We do try to get Alcindor in close to the basket. And, if we can get him in a one-on-one situation, well, it might be difficult for the other team to handle him."

The 7-foot-1 Alcindor, two-time player of the year and three-time All-American comes into the game with a 24.1 scoring average and 14.5 rebounds a game.

Gary Odom, a rugged 6-8 Drake senior, likely will be the man assigned to guard Alcindor.

Both John and Wooden said that their teams are in good physical shape but Purdue and North Carolina both have injury problems.

King said that 7-foot center Chuck Bavis definitely is lost to Purdue with a muscle separation in his shoulder. Herman Gilliam, the Boilermakers' No. 2 scorer, is doubtful with an achilles tendon injury.

Dick Grubar, a senior guard and North Carolina's top defensive player, is lost with a knee injury. He originally was counted on to guard Rick Mount, Purdue's All-American.

Bullets Whip Seattle, Clinch Tie For Title

By The Associated Press

Coach Gene Shue of the Baltimore Bullets isn't conceding a thing—to the Baltimore Bullets.

Not even after the Bullets whipped Seattle 130-120 Tuesday night and clinched at least a tie for the National Basketball Association's Eastern Division championship.

"When we win one more game I'll predict we're going to win the title," Shue said. "We've got a tough schedule ahead."

The clinching can come tonight if the Bullets win at New York or the second-place Philadelphia 76ers lose to Seattle at home.

In other Tuesday night games, Western Division champion Los Angeles nipped Chicago 93-92, San Diego crushed Milwaukee 128-108 and Atlanta drubbed San Francisco 128-115.

By winning, Baltimore moved 3½ games ahead of idle Philadelphia. The Bullets have four games left, Philadelphia three.

Kevin Loughery paced the Bullets with 32 points and scored 11 of their last 22 after Seattle had pulled to within 108-101. Ray Scott added 22 and Earl Monroe 14 to pass the 2,000-point mark.

The SuperSonics were eliminated from the Western Division playoff scramble despite 26 points by Len Wilkens, 22 by John Tresvant and 21 by Art Harris.

Los Angeles' triumph over Chicago just about killed the Bulls' playoff hopes, dropping them 2½ games behind San Diego in the battle for fourth place. Rookie Tom Boerwinkle had a chance to keep it going but missed three free throws with four seconds left.

The Bulls led by five points with four minutes left but Jerry West and Bill Hewitt shot the Lakers into the lead. West's 30 points led the winners while Bob Boozer had 27 for Chicago.

San Diego broke open a tight game by outscoring Milwaukee 35-19 in the final period. Don Kojis took game scoring honors with 34 points. Jon McGlocklin netted 25 for the losing Bucks.

Atlanta blew a 13-point halftime lead but pulled away from San Francisco with a 34-21 fourth quarter. Jeff Mullins pumped in 28 points for the Warriors. Paul Silas and Zelmo Beaty collected 24 apiece for the Hawks.

Relief pitcher Hoyt Wilhelm, now with the California Angels, will be 46 years old next July. He hurled 94 innings with the Chicago White Sox in 1968.

Realignment Talk Goes On

By BOB MYERS
Associated Press Sports Writer

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP) — The owners of the 26 National and American league professional football teams momentarily put aside their debate over realignment today to hear bids by two cities seeking to stage the 1970 Super Bowl game.

Representatives from Miami, site of the last two championship games between the AFL and NFL, and New Orleans were set to present their arguments at a joint session of league owners.

Commissioner Pete Rozelle, hoping a decision will be forthcoming at this meeting, said he was not in the least surprised that the matter is taking so long to settle.

He recalled the period when the NFL was restructuring its 16 teams into divisions of four.

"It took us three days of about 16 hours each day to break the two eights into four fours," he noted.

In separate meetings, the two leagues have dealt at length with "any number of variations of the realignment," Rozelle said.

He added that he felt it was better that each league reach an agreement within its own family before convening in a joint meeting.

Underneath the controversy is the interpretation of the word realignment as used in the original merger agreement of June 8, 1966.

He interjected the statement that the present squabble is not related to the outcome of the 1969 Super Bowl game in which the AFL New York Jets surprised the NFL Baltimore Colts 16-7.

There are at least three AFL owners who contend the merger agreement specifically called for total realignment, thus eliminating the AFL as an identity of itself.

They are Paul Brown of the Cincinnati Bengals, Gerald Phipps of the Denver Broncos and Joseph Robbie of Miami.

Brown, former coach and general manager of the NFL Cleveland Browns, told The Associated Press:

"When we paid our money to get into the league, we were told we would be in the Western Division but we don't let that bother us because we'll have realignment in 1970."

Jim Nash Routed

Indians Get 10 In Second, Hold Off Athletics 10-8

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

Ten little Indians ran circles around Jim Nash in the Arizona desert—and left the Oakland pitcher with a fair idea of what Custer went through at the Little Big Horn.

The Cleveland Indians tagged Nash for 10 runs on 11 hits—seven for extra bases—in the second inning Tuesday and held off the Athletics 10-8 at Mesa, Ariz., for their ninth consecutive exhibition baseball victory.

Nash, a 13-game winner for the A's last season and the club ERA leader at 2.28, was raked for four singles, five doubles and two home runs—by Tony Horton and Duke Sims—before Manager Hank Bauer finally lifted him with two out in the second.

Detroit's Denny McLain, the American League MVP and Cy Young Award winner, also took his lumps on the mound, yielding six runs in four innings—four of them on homers by Bill White and Richie Allen—as the Tigers bowed to the Philadelphia Phillies 6-2.

While McLain and the world champion Tigers floundered, Bob Gibson pitched three scoreless innings, helping St. Louis' National League kings defeat Baltimore 9-5 to snap the Orioles' seven-game winning streak.

Gibson, MVP and Cy Young winner in the NL last year, recorded four of the Cardinal pitchers' 14 strikeouts. Paul Blair homered twice for the Orioles.

The Washington Senators, beaten in 10 of their previous 11 spring starts, turned on Montreal for a 5-0 victory, with Joe Coleman scattering three hits over the first five innings before Dick Bosman and Dave Baldwin combined for four hitless frames.

Tom Seaver, Nolan Ryan and Tug McGraw limited Los Angeles to two singles as the New York Mets topped the Dodgers 3-0 for their second successive shutout victory.

Randy Hundley smacked three hits, including a home run, in the Chicago Cubs' 8-5 victory over Seattle, and Denny Lemaster teamed with rookie Tom Griffin for a seven-hitter in Houston's 4-0 verdict over the Chicago White Sox.

Rookies Rafael Robles and Clarence Gaston each stroked three hits, powering San Diego to a 9-3 victory over California. Robles had two singles, a double and a sacrifice fly; Gaston a single, double and tape-measure homer.

Westgate Cage Tournament Finals Tonight

Action got under way at Westgate in the 6-7-8 grade basketball tournament last night.

In sixth grade games, Jim Pike's Barbershop beat Downtown 17-7 as John Tice had 8 points and East End whipped Potters Adjustment 21-9 as Larry Foster had 7 for the winners and Fred Kinsey 5 for the losers.

In seventh grade games, Martin's Sohio thumped Calcutta 20-8 as T. Allison had 6 for the winners and the Beaver Bobcats downed Lee Cain Fencing 21-16 as Forbes had 7 for the winners and Rudy Jones 5 for the losers.

In eighth grade action, St. John's edged LaCroft Nazarene 22-17 as George Hanlon had 8 for the winners and Lawson 5 for the losers. Wines Barbershop whipped St. Ann's 37-17 as Keith LeMasters had 13 for the winners and Kim Kuczynski 6 for the losers. St. Aloysius thumped First UP 41-10 as Mark Connell scored 20, and Sevy's whipped Martin's Sohio 34-16 as Larry Slappy had 11 for the winners and Steve Lockhart 6 for the losers.

Tonight action gets under way at 5:30 with the seventh grade semi-finals. St. Aloysius meets Martin's Sohio and Beaver faces First UP. The sixth grade title game will follow with East End playing Pike's Barbershop.

A 7:15 the eighth grade semi-finals will be played, with St. John's taking on Wines Barbershop and Sevy's meeting St. Aloysius. The seventh grade title game will be at 8:15, a fifth grade game will be played after that and the eighth grade title game is set for 9:15.

E. Liverpool Wins 'Dollar' Tournament

East Liverpool won the "Dollars For Scholars" faculty basketball tournament last night, nipping Oak Glen 64-60 at East Liverpool.

Jim Quinn led the way with 26 points, while Jim Potts had 20 and Randy Stover 11. Alan Hoover had 26 for the losers and Larry Conterbury added 14.

The game was close all the way and the score was tied 42-42 entering the final period. Quinn got 12 points in the last quarter to carry East Liverpool to the win. It was 61-60 with 40 seconds to go and East Liverpool hit three fouls to win.

The home team won at the foul line, connecting on 20 of 29 to only 12 of 26 by the losers.

Drake Will Run With UCLA

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Coach Maury John of Drake doesn't plan a slowdown or a stall against top-ranked UCLA and its superstar, Lew Alcindor, when the free-wheeling Bulldogs clash with the Bruins in the semifinals of the NCAA basketball championships Thursday night.

The Uclans, 27-1 and aiming for a record third-straight national title, will be heavy favorites against Drake, 25-4, in the second game of a doubleheader. Fourth-ranked North Carolina, 27-3, meets No. 6 Purdue, 22-4, in the opener of the twinbill at 7:40 p.m., EST. The survivors play for the championship Saturday at 4:15 p.m. All games will be televised by NBC-TV.

John, John Wooden of UCLA, Dean Smith of North Carolina and George King of Purdue were interviewed in a long distance telephone hookup Tuesday before embarking for Louisville.

John said, "I realize we're playing a super team, but I don't plan to make any drastic changes in our style of play. The only thing, perhaps, is that we may be a little more conservative offensively. I feel we have the ability to score."

Willie McCarter, a senior guard, is the Drake star.

"Willie has developed into a more complete player," John said. "He's an excellent outside shooter, he's quick, and he's averaging seven assists and 20 points per game. He's the backbone of our club."

Wooden maintained that he has a five-man team, not a one-man gang but he admitted, "We do try to get Alcindor in close to the basket. And, if we can get him in a one-on-one situation, well, it might be difficult for the other team to handle him."

Dodgers Hope September Indicative Of Good 1969

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

VERO BEACH, Fla. (AP) — The big question about the Los Angeles Dodgers is whether they are as bad as they were over the first five months of last season or as good as they were over the last month.

For the Dodgers had the best record in the National League during the month of September — and they accomplished that without the services of ace right-hander Don Drysdale, who earlier had put together a record string of 58 2-3 consecutive shutout innings.

Manager Walt Alston prefers to think that September was more indicative of the Dodgers than the first five months.

"While what we did in September last year won't count this season," Alston said frankly, "it did indicate we're a better team than we looked over the entire season."

Alston also leaves no doubt where he figures the improvement is going to come from when the Dodgers, who finished in a tie for seventh last year, take the field in Western Division of the National League's new two-division set-up against Atlanta, Cincinnati, Houston, San Diego and San Francisco.

"Bill Sudakis could make a big differece for us," Alston explained. "But the most improvement could come from better years out of Jim Lefebvre and Ron Fairly. They're better ball players than they indicated last year."

Sudakis is the young third baseman who came up in September last year and hit away at a .276 clip, despite the fact that he wore his contact lenses backwards the entire time without realizing it.

Lefebvre hit just .241 last season but proved in 1966 that he could hit for average as well as with power by batting .274 with 24 homers and 74 runs batted in. Fairly had a disastrous 1968 season with a .234 average.

If Sudakis makes it at third as expected and Lefebvre returns to form at second base, the infield could be strong. Slickfielding Wes Parker is the first baseman and shortstop hopefully will be manned by one of the brightest prospects in the Dodger organization—Bill Grabarkewitz.

Grabarkewitz hit .308 at Albuquerque last year and the Dodgers felt so sure he could make it in the majors they exposed Zoilo Versalles in the expansion draft.

Fairly is the key to an outfield alignment that includes Willie Davis and Willie Crawford and possibly trade-acquisition Andy Kosco.

Tom Haller, the catcher, was the leading hitter on the club last year with a .285 batting average, and has a strong corps of pitchers to handle, starting with Drysdale.

Bill Singer, 13-17 last season, and Don Sutton, 11-15, are young and should improve with another year's experience; Claude Osteen is a veteran who has proved he can get the job done, and Alan Foster could finally live up to his solid credentials in another trial.

The important thing to remember is that this club, without Drysdale, put together an 18-9 record last September that was the best in the National League.

It could be that the Dodgers are ready to move back to where Sandy Koufax had them.

In Rain-Delayed Finish

Colbert Wins Monsanto For First Tour Victory

By SHEILA MORAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

PENSACOLA, Fla. (AP) — Jim Colbert played his old shots as he became golf's newest champion but, for the former Kansas State football player, the waiting game was the hardest.

Colbert's first victory in four years on the pro circuit came in Tuesday's rain-delayed final round of the $100,000 Monsanto Open where he finished two strokes ahead of Deane Beman for a 72-hole total of 267.

The balding, boyish-looking 28-year-old from Overland Park, Kan., who held a one-stroke lead after 54 holes Saturday, sat in his motel for two days playing bridge and putting on the rug before finally teeing off into the teeth of a 35-mile an hour wind in the finale.

"Each morning I'd look out the window and see the rain," he said. "I was really wanting to get out there and play.

"I had butterflys on the first tee because we had waited so long."

Colbert, who quarterbacked the Kansas State freshman team, didn't remember his one bad shot in the round—when he knocked his first tee shot into the woods.

"I don't even remember hitting off No. 1," he said. Colbert psyched the winds by playing his old game. He kept his iron shots knee high, playing them "the way I used to play at home in Kansas. I haven't played that way in a couple of years."

Monsanto's $20,000 first place prize boosted Colbert's 1969 earnings to more than $23,000.

His best previous career finish had been a third in Jacksonville in 1967, when he won more than $25,000. He won only half that amount last year.

Dodgers Hope September Indicative Of Good 1969

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

VERO BEACH, Fla. (AP) — The big question about the Los Angeles Dodgers is whether they are as bad as they were over the first five months of last season or as good as they were over the last month.

For the Dodgers had the best record in the National League during the month of September — and they accomplished that without the services of ace right-hander Don Drysdale, who earlier had put together a record string of 58 2-3 consecutive shutout innings.

Manager Walt Alston prefers to think that September was more indicative of the Dodgers than the first five months.

"While what we did in September last year won't count this season," Alston said frankly, "it did indicate we're a better team than we looked over the entire season."

Alston also leaves no doubt where he figures the improvement is going to come from when the Dodgers, who finished in a tie for seventh last year, take the field in Western Division of the National League's new two-division set-up against Atlanta, Cincinnati, Houston, San Diego and San Francisco.

"Bill Sudakis could make a big differece for us," Alston explained. "But the most improvement could come from better years out of Jim Lefebvre and Ron Fairly. They're better ball players than they indicated last year."

Sudakis is the young third baseman who came up in September last year and hit away at a .276 clip, despite the fact that he wore his contact lenses backwards the entire time without realizing it.

Lefebvre hit just .241 last season but proved in 1966 that he could hit for average as well as with power by batting .274 with 24 homers and 74 runs batted in. Fairly had a disastrous 1968 season with a .234 average.

If Sudakis makes it at third as expected and Lefebvre returns to form at second base, the infield could be strong. Slickfielding Wes Parker is the first baseman and shortstop hopefully will be manned by one of the brightest prospects in the Dodger organization—Bill Grabarkewitz.

Grabarkewitz hit .308 at Albuquerque last year and the Dodgers felt so sure he could make it in the majors they exposed Zoilo Versalles in the expansion draft.

Fairly is the key to an outfield alignment that includes Willie Davis and Willie Crawford and possibly trade-acquisition Andy Kosco.

Tom Haller, the catcher, was the leading hitter on the club last year with a .285 batting average, and has a strong corps of pitchers to handle, starting with Drysdale.

Bill Singer, 13-17 last season, and Don Sutton, 11-15, are young and should improve with another year's experience; Claude Osteen is a veteran who has proved he can get the job done, and Alan Foster could finally live up to his solid credentials in another trial.

The important thing to remember is that this club, without Drysdale, put together an 18-9 record last September that was the best in the National League.

It could be that the Dodgers are ready to move back to where Sandy Koufax had them.

In Rain-Delayed Finish

Colbert Wins Monsanto For First Tour Victory

By SHEILA MORAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

PENSACOLA, Fla. (AP) — Jim Colbert played his old shots as he became golf's newest champion but, for the former Kansas State football player, the waiting game was the hardest.

Colbert's first victory in four years on the pro circuit came in Tuesday's rain-delayed final round of the $100,000 Monsanto Open where he finished two strokes ahead of Deane Beman for a 72-hole total of 267.

The balding, boyish-looking 28-year-old from Overland Park, Kan., who held a one-stroke lead after 54 holes Saturday, sat in his motel for two days playing bridge and putting on the rug before finally teeing off into the teeth of a 35-mile an hour wind in the finale.

"Each morning I'd look out the window and see the rain," he said. "I was really wanting to get out there and play.

"I had butterflys on the first tee because we had waited so long."

Colbert, who quarterbacked the Kansas State freshman team, didn't remember his one bad shot in the round—when he knocked his first tee shot into the woods.

"I don't even remember hitting off No. 1," he said. Colbert psyched the winds by playing his old game. He kept his iron shots knee high, playing them "the way I used to play at home in Kansas. I haven't played that way in a couple of years."

Monsanto's $20,000 first place prize boosted Colbert's 1969 earnings to more than $23,000.

His best previous career finish had been a third in Jacksonville in 1967, when he won more than $25,000. He won only half that amount last year.

ANN LANDERS

Coach May Get Penalty

By Ann Landers

Dear Ann Landers: I'm going with a nice guy (I'm 17 and he's 18) but I think he's a little crazy.

Joe eats, sleeps and dreams football — 12 months of the year. He considers our relationship a game. He's the coach and I'm a player. Whenever Joe and I have an argument I'm penalized. He makes up the penalties himself — one kiss for a misdemeanor and several kisses for a more serious infraction.

Yesterday I dented the fender of his new car and the penalty is two hours of necking, with him calling all the signals.

This is no joke letter. He's serious and I need help. — UNCOMPLETED PASS (SO FAR).

Dear Uncompleted; tell the coach you have played out your option and that unless he changes his system you're switching to another team.

Lucky Child

Dear Ann: I feel I must reply to the man who wrote to say he couldn't love an adopted child as much as his own, therefore he would rather not have any children.

Katie was the most popular girl on campus. I was called The Brain and strictly from Dullsville.

One afternoon I came across Katie crying her heart out on a bench behind the library. We were good friends and she told me she was pregnant. The man was married and had offered her money for an abortion. She was frightened and didn't know what to do.

I offered to marry her then and there and she accepted. A minister performed the ceremony the following weekend. It was June and we both were graduated 10 days later. I had an offer to go to South America which I accepted. We left together as Mr. and Mrs.

That was 14 years ago, Ann. Our first-born son has a brother and two sisters. But he's the child dearest to my heart. I never think of him as the son of another man. He's the light of my life. — NO SIGNATURE, OF COURSE.

-:-

Dear No Sig.: What a beautiful letter! What a beautiful man! Lucky Katie!

Uncomfortable

Dear Ann: I have a feeling I'm not exactly normal. Please tell me if my hunch is right.

I'm happily married to a wonderful man and we have a small child. My problem — I feel very uncomfortable when a woman puts her arms around me or kisses me. Even when my own mother caresses me I dislike it.

I've kept my feelings to myself, however, because I wouldn't hurt my mother's feelings for the world. What's wrong with me? Why am I like this? Please explain. — TOUCH ME NOT.

Dear Touch: The reason is probably related to your feelings about your mother or some other woman with whom you had close contact early in life.

Since you are happily married I see no cause to be unduly concerned. Most people have a minor hangup of one kind or another and yours is one you can live with.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Midland K. Of C. Names Winners In Essay Contest

Three students at Midland's Presentation Catholic School have received awards for their essays on decent literature in a contest sponsored by the Knights of Columbus, Council 2005.

Susan Mosticone, 6th grade, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Mosticone of Ohioville, wrote on "Is It Really Necessary;" Janice Nola, 7th grade, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Nola of Industry, wrote on "The Destructor Pornography," and Vincent DiMaggio, 8th grade, son of Mr. and Mrs. Vincent DiMaggio of Midland, wrote on "Battle Cry."

All received $5 and a book chosen by Sister Georgia Mangold, principal at the school, and Francis Crytzer, chairman of the contest.

Al Nutz, grand knight, presented the checks. Judges for the contest were 6th grade faculty at St. Gregory School, Zelienople, 7th grade, faculty at St. Columkill, Imperial, and the 8th grade, faculty at the Sacred Heart School at Evansville.

The contest was sponsored by the K. of C. in conjunction with "Clean Literature Month" in February. Nutz asked the public to keep clean literature in mind all year long "so our children will have good reading."

The month of May was named for a pre-Christian Roman goddess, Maia, mother of Hermes and Zeus.

Newell Club Makes Plans For Dinner

Plans have been completed for the second annual "International Dinner" sponsored by the Newell Junior Woman's Club Tuesday at the American Legion Post.

Delmar T. O'Hara of Wellsville will present a program on the economic and social customs of Japan. Husbands of club members will be guests.

Mrs. Marge Beckner, president, and Mrs. Phyllis Jividen, international affairs chairman, are arranging Oriental favors and decorations. Pre-dinner preparations will be handled by Mrs. Wanda Elders, Mrs. Lynn Dunlevy and Mrs. Nancy Daugherty.

Gifts received from the Republic of China and Belgium will be presented at the close of the meeting. Finland has sent material to be used in decorating the dining room.

Club members unable to attend have been asked to contact Mrs. Jividen or Mrs. Beckner.

The new Multiple Savings Plan at Diversified offers you three high interest savings options.

1

5¾% interest paid on one year term certificates. A minimum deposit of $1000 is required, thereafter in increments of $1000. When held for one year these certificates pay the area's highest rate — 5¾%.

2

5½% interest paid on investor's passbook savings. A minimum deposit of $500 is required. When held for one year this plan pays 5½% compounded quarterly and earned daily. Money may be withdrawn at any time and still earns 5¼%.

3

5¼% on regular passbook savings. Interest is compounded quarterly and earned daily. Which means you can deposit your money today, take it out tomorrow and still get one day's interest. Savings earn from the day of deposit, and withdrawals are penalized only for the amount of the withdrawal and for the number of days remaining in the quarter.

Labor's Opposition 'Chills' Taxing Arms Of Pa.'s Cities

HARRISBURG (AP) — Labor opposition is dimming hopes for passage of a four-bill Senate package to give local governments a multi-million dollar shot in their taxing arms.

The bills to double the current local wage tax limit in more than 1,000 municipalities and increase other taxes have been on the Senate's calendar for six days. The Senate twice has delayed final vote on the measures.

Under Senate rules, bills can remain on the docket for only 10 legislative days before they must be voted upon or returned to committee — in most cases a virtual death warrant.

The bills' chief sponsor, Thomas F. Lamb, D-Allegheny, said the reason for the delay on the bills is "labor is against them and frankly, we can't get enough votes."

The bills would:

— Increase the current 1 per cent local wage tax limit to 2 per cent, allocating 1 per cent to schools and the other 1 per cent to local government. Currently, schools can share up to one half of present local wage taxes.

— Double the maximum permissible occupational privilege tax from $10 to $20 yearly.

— Increase the maximum real estate tax rate for third class cities, boroughs and townships from 25 to 30 mills per $1,000 of assessed valuation or about $25 on a home assessed for tax purposes at $5,000.

The wage and occuaptional privilege taxes would apply to Pittsburgh, Scranton, third class cities, boroughs, and first and second class townships — more than 1,000 municipalities.

Booster Group Sets Committee

A calling committee was chosen when the Dixonville Vikings Booster Club met Monday night at the home of the head coach, Frank Hilliard of Smithfield St.

Named were Mrs. Roxanna Parsons, Mrs. Shirley Green, Mrs. JoAnn Hilliard, Mrs. Dorothy Wright, Mrs. Isabelle Bell and Mrs. Barbara Thompson.

Plans were made for a rummage sale April 24-26 in the City Market building, with Mrs. Wright, chairman, assisted by Mrs. Alta Wetzel.

A bake sale will be held June 7 at Hills in St. Clair Plaza.

Films of the 1968 season were screened by the coach. They will be shown April 7 at 7 p.m. in the Ohio Valley Gas Co. office on W. 6th St. for the team members, he said.

The next meeting will be April 14 at 7:30 p. m. with Richard S. Thompson of Elmhurst Pl. in Calcutta.

On Sept. 28, 1904, police in New York City arrested a woman on Fifth Ave. for smoking a cigarette. In 1908, the Sullivan Ordinance made smoking in public places in New York City illegal for women.

City Twins Earn Degrees In Kent State Ceremony

Doubling up at Kent State University's fifth annual winter Commencement Saturday were twin graduates Mary Ann and Sue Ann Rogers of East Liverpool.

They are the daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Harmon K. Rogers, 815 Cadmus St. Both are graduates of East Liverpool High School.

Mary Ann, a sociology major who graduated cum laude, attended Kent's Columbiana County Branch at East Liverpool her freshman year. She transferred to the Kent campus as a sophomore. She hopes to go into welfare work.

Sue Ann, who began her studies at Kent, majored in French and is currently teaching French at Westgate Junior High School. She intends to go to graduate school in September. At Kent, Sue Ann was a member of Alpha Phi social sorority.

The new Multiple Savings Plan at Diversified offers you three high interest savings options.

1

5¾% interest paid on one year term certificates. A minimum deposit of $1000 is required, thereafter in increments of $1000. When held for one year these certificates pay the area's highest rate — 5¾%.

2

5½% interest paid on investor's passbook savings. A minimum deposit of $500 is required. When held for one year this plan pays 5½% compounded quarterly and earned daily. Money may be withdrawn at any time and still earns 5¼%.

3

5¼% on regular passbook savings. Interest is compounded quarterly and earned daily. Which means you can deposit your money today, take it out tomorrow and still get one day's interest. Savings earn from the day of deposit, and withdrawals are penalized only for the amount of the withdrawal and for the number of days remaining in the quarter.

Labor's Opposition 'Chills' Taxing Arms Of Pa.'s Cities

HARRISBURG (AP) — Labor opposition is dimming hopes for passage of a four-bill Senate package to give local governments a multi-million dollar shot in their taxing arms.

The bills to double the current local wage tax limit in more than 1,000 municipalities and increase other taxes have been on the Senate's calendar for six days. The Senate twice has delayed final vote on the measures.

Under Senate rules, bills can remain on the docket for only 10 legislative days before they must be voted upon or returned to committee — in most cases a virtual death warrant.

The bills' chief sponsor, Thomas F. Lamb, D-Allegheny, said the reason for the delay on the bills is "labor is against them and frankly, we can't get enough votes."

The bills would:

— Increase the current 1 per cent local wage tax limit to 2 per cent, allocating 1 per cent to schools and the other 1 per cent to local government. Currently, schools can share up to one half of present local wage taxes.

— Double the maximum permissible occupational privilege tax from $10 to $20 yearly.

— Increase the maximum real estate tax rate for third class cities, boroughs and townships from 25 to 30 mills per $1,000 of assessed valuation or about $25 on a home assessed for tax purposes at $5,000.

The wage and occuaptional privilege taxes would apply to Pittsburgh, Scranton, third class cities, boroughs, and first and second class townships — more than 1,000 municipalities.

Booster Group Sets Committee

Named were Mrs. Roxanna Parsons, Mrs. Shirley Green, Mrs. JoAnn Hilliard, Mrs. Dorothy Wright, Mrs. Isabelle Bell and Mrs. Barbara Thompson.

Plans were made for a rummage sale April 24-26 in the City Market building, with Mrs. Wright, chairman, assisted by Mrs. Alta Wetzel.

A bake sale will be held June 7 at Hills in St. Clair Plaza.

Films of the 1968 season were screened by the coach. They will be shown April 7 at 7 p.m. in the Ohio Valley Gas Co. office on W. 6th St. for the team members, he said.

The next meeting will be April 14 at 7:30 p. m. with Richard S. Thompson of Elmhurst Pl. in Calcutta.

On Sept. 28, 1904, police in New York City arrested a woman on Fifth Ave. for smoking a cigarette. In 1908, the Sullivan Ordinance made smoking in public places in New York City illegal for women.

City Twins Earn Degrees In Kent State Ceremony

Doubling up at Kent State University's fifth annual winter Commencement Saturday were twin graduates Mary Ann and Sue Ann Rogers of East Liverpool.

They are the daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Harmon K. Rogers, 815 Cadmus St. Both are graduates of East Liverpool High School.

Although they did not begin at Kent together, the 22-year-old twins completed their studies at the same time in December and both had better-than-B averages.

Mary Ann, a sociology major who graduated cum laude, attended Kent's Columbiana County Branch at East Liverpool her freshman year. She transferred to the Kent campus as a sophomore. She hopes to go into welfare work.

Sue Ann, who began her studies at Kent, majored in French and is currently teaching French at Westgate Junior High School. She intends to go to graduate school in September. At Kent, Sue Ann was a member of Alpha Phi social sorority.

Ohioans Get Reminder On Voter Registration

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohioans who are not registered to vote were reminded Tuesday by Secretary of State Ted W. Brown that they must do so before March 26 if they want to vote in the May 6 primary election.

The DOCTOR Says

Treatment Depends On The Problem

Q.—What causes a burning feeling on urination? What will relieve it?

A.—The cause may be cystitis (inflammation of the bladder), a highly acid urine or a bladder stone. Your doctor must discover the cause before he can prescribe effective treatment.

Dr. Brandstadt

Q—I have a bladder infection, an aftermath of a difficult childbirth. I am taking Gantanol, which helps, but as soon as I stop taking it the trouble returns. Is there anything I can do to clear up this infection?

A—Gantanol is a sulfa drug that is usually effective against urinary infections. It is necessary to continue its use for at least 10 days after the symptoms are relieved or the infection is likely to return. If you have recurrences in spite of this precaution, yours is a deep-seated infection that may require the services of a urologist.

IT MAY HELP to have a urine culture to determine what organisms are causing the infection. Then your doctor can select drugs known to be effective against these germs. In stubborn cases, several drugs have been found to be beneficial — nitrofurantoin, nitroxoline, nalidixic acid (NegGram) or sulfamethizole. Sometimes treatment with these drugs has to be continued uninterrupted for a year.

Q.—Whenever I become excited or nervous I have to urinate so frequently that it is embarrassing. Is there anything I can do to get over this?

A—This is a common complaint. Frequency may be due to a variety of causes, but if nervous tension is the cause you may need a short course of a tranquilizer and lessons in how to relax.

Q—In 1961 I was operated on for a bladder tumor. Ever since then I have had bladder stones. Is there any cure for this condition?

A—If the stones are too large to pass through your urethra a urologist can introduce a cystoscope into your bladder and through this tube, using another instrument, he can crush the stones. Salicylates can then be given in carefully controlled dosage to prevent the formation of further stones.

Q.—In a recent column you stated that chewing tobacco would cause the same damage as cigarettes. How can chewing tobacco cause lung cancer?

A—It can't. I should have stated that it has the same effect on the heart, blood pressure and circulation.

Please send your questions and comments to Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D., in care of The Review. While Dr. Brandstadt cannot answer individual letters, he will answer letters of general interest in future columns.

Three Choruses At Lisbon High Await Festival

LISBON — David Anderson High School will have three choruses competing in "C" classification of the District 8 band and choir festival Saturday at New Philadelphia.

Leonard Welch, vocal music instructor, said Lisbon's groups will sing at West School on Tuscarawas Ave. on the following schedule: Robed choir, 9:20 a.m.; Girls Glee Club, 10, and boys Glee Club, 10:40.

There are five other schools in "C" class, Welch said. Forty bands and 34 choirs are entered in the various classifications.

Deborah Hart will serve as piano accompanist for the third time in competition. She will sing second soprano for the unaccompanied, required number. Betsy Blocksom, Mary Beth Boso and Nancy Gray will have solos.

Warren Kelm will be piano accompanist for the boys.

George Strickling of Mayfield Heights, Robert Petty of Columbus and Neil Davis of Lakewood will be the judges.

Welch said the vocal department is preparing numbers for the annual pre-Easter assembly Wednesday, April 1, in the auditorium. The public is invited.

Yellow Creek Grange Sets Degree Practice

The Yellow Creek grange will hold degree team practice Thursday night following the meeting which will begin at 8:30.

Those wishing to donate to the March 29 supper are asked to notify the Home Economics Committee as soon as possible, Mrs. Dolores Williams, chairman, said.

A "work" party will be held Saturday, weather permitting.

Rhodes Names Kamm To Board Of Regents

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Gov. James A. Rhodes Tuesday appointed Jacob O. Kamm of Lorain to the Ohio Board of Regents for a term expiring Sept. 20, 1972.

Kamm is president of the American Ship Building Co. and a full professor in the Baldwin-Wallace School of Commerce. He succeeds Arthur G. Thatcher, who resigned.

Comes Up In House Hearing

Question: Should Regents Be Made Governing Unit?

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Some members of the House Education Committee are wondering out-loud whether the State Board of Regents should be changed from a coordinating board to a governing board.

The question came up in a hearing Tuesday night on a bill requiring faculty members at state universities to work 40 hours a week.

Rep. Kenneth B. Creasy, R-18 Delaware, told the committee the legislature seriously ought to consider whether the Board of Regents should coordinate or govern Ohio's institutions of higher education.

Regents Chancellor John D. Millett said that 11 states have a single governing board over their state universities, 30 have a coordinating board and nine have neither.

The committee asked Millett to report back in two weeks on the powers and duties of such boards in other states.

Millett, who was called before the commitee for the second time on the faculty working hours bill, again requested "another chance to police ourselves."

Millett is opposed to enacting into law a bill to require all faculty members, except those doing research or public service work, to work 40 hours, which includes at least 15 hours of classroom teaching.

The chancellor said he felt the board ought to work out with the state universities over the next two years what should be in faculty contracts and what should be expected of faculty members.

When asked how a coordinating body like the Regents could enforce such guidelines Millett said:

"Mr. President, I will threaten them with this committee."

Millett also said, in answer to a question, that faculty members should disclose to the university how much time they spend on outside interests or employment.

The chancellor was thoroughly grilled on matters ranging from whether he felt faculty members ought to be politically active to whether legislators earned their keep.

Millett said a faculty member "has all the rights and privileges of a private citizen" when it came to political matters and took "the fifth amendment" on the second question.

In other committee action, the House State Government Committee dismissed a witness who delivered a "personal attack" on a committee member during a hearing on a local option bill.

Charles L. McLain of Circleville, chairman of the Committee to Keep Local Option, testified against a bill to increase the number of signatures necessary for filing local option election petitions.

McLain then accused Rep. Lawrence E. Hughes, R - 58 Columbus, of allowing booze on the Ohio State University campus.

Hughes noted that OSU was not in his district and suggested "that when you testify before a future committee that you not attack a committee member."

Rep. Ralph Welker, R - 27 Pomeroy, asked for dismissal of he witness and McLain then gathered up his briefcase and stepped down.

In earlier action, the Senate passed 30 - 0 a bill to require water-works companies to get a certificate of public convenience and necessity from the Public Utilities Commission of Ohio (PUCO) before they are able to operate.

The bill's sponsor, Harry L. Armstrong, R - 17 Logan, said the bill would prevent the setting up of fly-by-night water companies in housing developments which "go broke and leave people without any water."

The House approved 56-43 a bill to issue driver's licenses for a four year period.

Rep. George Mastics, R - 52 Fairview Park, introduced into the House a bill to require county - supported nursing homes to be licensed by the state.

Mastics said his proposal would enable Cuyahoga County nursing homes to receive an additional $1 million in Medicaid funds.

Other House bills would:

— Create a regional interstate compact for the control of air pollution compact between Ohio, Kentucky and West Virginia.

—Ban discrimination of the basis of sex.

—Provide that attorney fees considered as cost in court actions involving not more than $2,500 be no larger than 30 per cent of the judgment.

—License and regulate private investigators.

Load Limit Signs Due For Bridges

LISBON — Scores of Columbiana County bridges considered unsafe for heavy loads will be posted soon with reduced load limit signs according to County Engineer Bert A. Dawson Jr. of East Liverpool.

A current check has revealed that the majority of the spans unfit for 12-ton loads are not posted with a limit.

Based on the inspection to date, Dawson said many signs will be needed. They will be made in the County Highway Department sign shop and erected by county crews.

A bridge survey completed over a year ago by Mosure & Fok, consulting engineers, indexed the bridges by townships and set a maximum safe load for each span.

Dawson said the signs will be placed as soon as a schedule can be set up. It will cause some inconvenience, particularly on some school bus routes, but the bridges must be posted for public safety, Dawson pointed out.

Four More Ohioans Victims In Vietnam

WASHINGTON (AP) — Four Ohio servicemen are on the Defense Department's latest Vietnam casualty list.

They are Army Spec. 4 Donnie W. Caudill of Tiffin, Marine Pfc. James T. Anderson of Columbus, Army Pfc. Jerroy O. Young of Roundhead and Marine Pfc. Don R. Brewer of Dayton.

Man's Body Recovered After Fall In River

FINDLAY, Ohio (AP) — The body of Wilbur Roller, 74, of Findlay was recovered from the Blanchard River Tuesday shortly after he fell in the water while fishing.

The coroner was performing an autopsy to determine whether Roller drowned or suffered a heart attack.

Absinthe, because of its strength (68 per cent by volume) and other ingredients, has been banned in most countries in the world, according to the Encyclopaedia Britannica.

During the Battle of Britain, which lasted between July 10 and Oct. 10, 1940, and may have changed the course of the war, the Germans lost 1,733 aircraft and the British 915.

Q.—In a recent column you stated that chewing tobacco would cause the same damage as cigarettes. How can chewing tobacco cause lung cancer?

A—It can't. I should have stated that it has the same effect on the heart, blood pressure and circulation.

Please send your questions and comments to Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D., in care of The Review. While Dr. Brandstadt cannot answer individual letters, he will answer letters of general interest in future columns.

Three Choruses At Lisbon High Await Festival

LISBON — David Anderson High School will have three choruses competing in "C" classification of the District 8 band and choir festival Saturday at New Philadelphia.

Leonard Welch, vocal music instructor, said Lisbon's groups will sing at West School on Tuscarawas Ave. on the following schedule: Robed choir, 9:20 a.m.; Girls Glee Club, 10, and boys Glee Club, 10:40.

There are five other schools in "C" class, Welch said. Forty bands and 34 choirs are entered in the various classifications.

Deborah Hart will serve as piano accompanist for the third time in competition. She will sing second soprano for the unaccompanied, required number. Betsy Blocksom, Mary Beth Boso and Nancy Gray will have solos.

Warren Kelm will be piano accompanist for the boys.

George Strickling of Mayfield Heights, Robert Petty of Columbus and Neil Davis of Lakewood will be the judges.

Welch said the vocal department is preparing numbers for the annual pre-Easter assembly Wednesday, April 1, in the auditorium. The public is invited.

Yellow Creek Grange Sets Degree Practice

The Yellow Creek grange will hold degree team practice Thursday night following the meeting which will begin at 8:30.

Those wishing to donate to the March 29 supper are asked to notify the Home Economics Committee as soon as possible, Mrs. Dolores Williams, chairman, said.

A "work" party will be held Saturday, weather permitting.

Rhodes Names Kamm To Board Of Regents

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Gov. James A. Rhodes Tuesday appointed Jacob O. Kamm of Lorain to the Ohio Board of Regents for a term expiring Sept. 20, 1972.

Kamm is president of the American Ship Building Co. and a full professor in the Baldwin-Wallace School of Commerce. He succeeds Arthur G. Thatcher, who resigned.

Comes Up In House Hearing

Question: Should Regents Be Made Governing Unit?

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Some members of the House Education Committee are wondering out-loud whether the State Board of Regents should be changed from a coordinating board to a governing board.

The question came up in a hearing Tuesday night on a bill requiring faculty members at state universities to work 40 hours a week.

Rep. Kenneth B. Creasy, R-18 Delaware, told the committee the legislature seriously ought to consider whether the Board of Regents should coordinate or govern Ohio's institutions of higher education.

Regents Chancellor John D. Millett said that 11 states have a single governing board over their state universities, 30 have a coordinating board and nine have neither.

The committee asked Millett to report back in two weeks on the powers and duties of such boards in other states.

Millett, who was called before the commitee for the second time on the faculty working hours bill, again requested "another chance to police ourselves."

Millett is opposed to enacting into law a bill to require all faculty members, except those doing research or public service work, to work 40 hours, which includes at least 15 hours of classroom teaching.

The chancellor said he felt the board ought to work out with the state universities over the next two years what should be in faculty contracts and what should be expected of faculty members.

When asked how a coordinating body like the Regents could enforce such guidelines Millett said:

"Mr. President, I will threaten them with this committee."

Millett also said, in answer to a question, that faculty members should disclose to the university how much time they spend on outside interests or employment.

The chancellor was thoroughly grilled on matters ranging from whether he felt faculty members ought to be politically active to whether legislators earned their keep.

Millett said a faculty member "has all the rights and privileges of a private citizen" when it came to political matters and took "the fifth amendment" on the second question.

In other committee action, the House State Government Committee dismissed a witness who delivered a "personal attack" on a committee member during a hearing on a local option bill.

Charles L. McLain of Circleville, chairman of the Committee to Keep Local Option, testified against a bill to increase the number of signatures necessary for filing local option election petitions.

McLain then accused Rep. Lawrence E. Hughes, R - 58 Columbus, of allowing booze on the Ohio State University campus.

Hughes noted that OSU was not in his district and suggested "that when you testify before a future committee that you not attack a committee member."

Rep. Ralph Welker, R - 27 Pomeroy, asked for dismissal of he witness and McLain then gathered up his briefcase and stepped down.

In earlier action, the Senate passed 30 - 0 a bill to require water-works companies to get a certificate of public convenience and necessity from the Public Utilities Commission of Ohio (PUCO) before they are able to operate.

The bill's sponsor, Harry L. Armstrong, R - 17 Logan, said the bill would prevent the setting up of fly-by-night water companies in housing developments which "go broke and leave people without any water."

The House approved 56-43 a bill to issue driver's licenses for a four year period.

Rep. George Mastics, R - 52 Fairview Park, introduced into the House a bill to require county - supported nursing homes to be licensed by the state.

Mastics said his proposal would enable Cuyahoga County nursing homes to receive an additional $1 million in Medicaid funds.

Other House bills would:

—Create a regional interstate compact for the control of air pollution compact between Ohio, Kentucky and West Virginia.

—Ban discrimination of the basis of sex.

—Provide that attorney fees considered as cost in court actions involving not more than $2,500 be no larger than 30 per cent of the judgment.

—License and regulate private investigators.

Load Limit Signs Due For Bridges

LISBON — Scores of Columbiana County bridges considered unsafe for heavy loads will be posted soon with reduced load limit signs, according to County Engineer Bert A. Dawson Jr. of East Liverpool.

A current check has revealed that the majority of the spans unfit for 12-ton loads are not posted with a limit.

Based on the inspection to date, Dawson said many signs will be needed. They will be made in the County Highway Department sign shop and erected by county crews.

A bridge survey completed over a year ago by Mosure & Fok, consulting engineers, indexed the bridges by townships and set a maximum safe load for each span.

Dawson said the signs will be placed as soon as a schedule can be set up. It will cause some inconvenience, particularly on some school bus routes, but the bridges must be posted for public safety, Dawson pointed out.

Four More Ohioans Victims In Vietnam

WASHINGTON (AP) — Four Ohio servicemen are on the Defense Department's latest Vietnam casualty list.

They are Army Spec. 4 Donnie W. Caudill of Tiffin, Marine Pfc. James T. Anderson of Columbus, Army Pfc. Jerroy O. Young of Roundhead and Marine Pfc. Don R. Brewer of Dayton.

Man's Body Recovered After Fall In River

FINDLAY, Ohio (AP) — The body of Wilbur Roller, 74, of Findlay was recovered from the Blanchard River Tuesday shortly after he fell in the water while fishing.

The coroner was performing an autopsy to determine whether Roller drowned or suffered a heart attack.

Absinthe, because of its strength (68 per cent by volume) and other ingredients, has been banned in most countries in the world, according to the Encyclopaedia Britannica.

During the Battle of Britain, which lasted between July 10 and Oct. 10, 1940, and may have changed the course of the war, the Germans lost 1,733 aircraft and the British 915.

Branch Schools Would Be 4-Year Colleges In '70s

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Within the next decade, Ohio's 18 state university branch campuses could become four year colleges primarily devoted to technical education, arts and sciences, teacher education and business administration.

This change could come about with the passage of an administration bill introduced Tuesday in the Ohio Senate. It would permit state university branches to become state colleges when they have a full-time enrollment of 4,000 students.

The top aide to Gov. James A. Rhodes, John M. McElroy, said that under the bill it would be possible for branches in Ashtabula, Middletown, Canton, Lima, Mansfield and Zanesville to become state colleges by September, 1971.

This was proposed by Rhodes in his Feb. 5 State of the State speech.

Rhodes also proposed that all other branches become four-year accredited colleges by September, 1976.

McElroy said it would "be hard to predict" whether the other branches could reach the required enrollment by 1976.

The bill's sponsor, Sen. Robert E. Stockdale, R-31 Kent, said it will take longer for the branches to reach enrollments of 4,000 and Collegehood."

"It's conceivable that half the branches could become state colleges within 10 years," Stockdale said.

Stockdale, a professor at Kent State University, said the bill provides a "blueprint" of statewide standards for the orderly establishment of new state colleges.

"A branch must have 4,000 students before it is economically defensible to create a state college," he said.

Stockdale said his bill would "supercede the regional or provincial bills" that have been introduced.

He was referring to bills in the Senate to make the Lima and Mansfield branches of Ohio State University state colleges by 1971.

"The lives of young people shouldn't be used as political footballs while one provincial area competes against another for a four year college," Stockdale explained.

The administration bill, which is cosponsored by an assistant professor at the University of Akron, Sen. Oliver Ocasek, D-27 Akron, provides a general policy guide for the establishment of four year state colleges.

The bill also places all post-high school technical education programs under the Board of Regents effective July 1, 1971.

It provides that all other technical education programs now operating either be transferred to the regents or terminated.

Stockdale said officially putting the technical programs under the regents would put an end "to the tug of war" now going on in some local communities over who should operate the programs.

Miss Mary Grace D'Alesio, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph D'Alesio of 1233 Virginia Ave., Midland, recently was chosen as recipient of a $1,000 scholarship for a month's study in Italy.

She will leave for Perugia at the end of June. The scholarship was awarded by the Italian Room Committee of the University of Pittsburgh, where she is majoring in English.

Miss D'Alesio has been named to the dean's list for the last two terms. She serves as secretary to Theta Phi Alpha sorority. She is a 1966 graduate of Midland's Lincoln High School.

Officer Slate Of Merchants Due April 15

The East Liverpool Merchants Association appointed a nominating committee during its meeting at the Chamber of Commerce office Tuesday.

Named were Dayton Allen, James Locke and Maurice Rapport. The slate will be presented at the next meeting April 15.

The group voted to cooperate with the civic affairs committee in the annual promotion of the citywide cleanup in May. A planning meeting will be held at noon Monday.

Participation in the Tri-State Pottery Festival in June and Chamber Week March 29-29 were discussed.

Thomas Phillips reported on the Ohio Chamber legislative conference in Columbus March 5-6.

Chairman Charles Averell said he will call an executive meeting in the near future to discuss additional matters.

Driver Injured, Traffic Blocked In Truck Wreck

A Chester area truck driver was injured and traffic was held up for more than two hours as the result of a mishap Tuesday on Route 30 about two miles northwest of Route 7.

The Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon said William T. Barrett, 26, of Chester RD 1 was westbound in a tractor-trailer loaded with bundles of steel rods. As the truck rounded a curve, the load began to shift and the truck overturned. The accident was timed at 9:52 a.m.

The road was not completely cleared until about 2 p.m. Barrett was treated at City Hospital for lacerations of the nose. He was cited for operating a truck with an insecure load.

Barbershoppers Set Patro Lists

Patron lists were compiled during the meeting of the East Liverpool SPEBSQSA Chapter Monday night at the Emmanuel United Presbyterian Church.

Ike Shumaker, ticket chairman, asks any patron who has not been notified to contact a member relative to the annual parade of quarters April 26 at Westgate School.

Jack Hughey, president, plans to attend the international preliminary quartet competition for the Johnny Appleseed District this weekend at Defiance. The winners will advance to the contest in July at St. Louis. Hughey also will serve as delegate to the district board meeting.

Glenn Woods directed the rehearsal.

Refreshments were served in honor of the birthday anniversary of Chuck Beaver. Mrs. Woods provided the deocrated cake.

Soviet Trims U.S. Lead In Seapower, House Told

WASHINGTON (AP) — An aging U.S. naval fleet and a lackluster shipbuilding program here allowed the Soviet Union to cut into United States superiority on the high seas, a House subcommittee said today.

The House Armed Services subcommittee on seapower says in a report prepared for release today that the United States no longer enjoys a clear-cut military and technological advantage over the Soviets in naval matters.

"In this new environment, our present and past methods must be subjected to ruthless appraisal," says the report, the result of seven hearings and staff visits to 13 major shipyards and ship repair facilities.

The report recommends that a well-balanced construction program, extended over a period of years, start immediately.

The subcommittee said the Navy should by the 1980s have a fleet of 850 modern ships, which should include 41 Polaris submarines and only nuclear attack submarines.

Now, it said, the average age of U.S. Navy ships is 17½ years, and 58 per cent of its combat ships are 20 years or more old. In contrast, it said less than 1 per cent of Soviet Navy ships are that old.

It said the Soviets now have 1,575 navy ships, while the U.S. Navy has 894.

Rep. L. Mendel Rivers, D-S.C., chairman of the full committee, said the "report makes crystal clear the gross inadequacy of our shipbuilding programs in past years."

The subcommittee says the Soviet Union is devoting major attention to the sea and modern uses of it.

"It is developing a massive, well-balanced program in virtually all phases of seapower," the report says. "Such a program presents a formidable challenge to traditional freedom of the world's oceans, assured for years by a substantial superiority in seapower.

"This superiority is now eroding by the new Soviet buildup."

The committee said the U.S. Navy could make a greater contribution toward security from nuclear and surprise attack by more utilization of the seas for the dispersal of nuclear weapons.

"More missiles at sea, utilizing missile-age geography, would place expensive burdens upon the Soviet Union's effort to cope with our retaliatory force," the committee said.

Crime-Fighting Funds Seen Wasted On Rural Sections

WASHINGTON (AP) — The National League of Cities says millions of dollars in federal crime-fighting funds are being wasted on rural areas and the creation of a new level of bureaucracy.

Allocated under the Safe Streets Act of 1968, the federal grants are designed to help control and ultimately lower crime rates.

But the league, representing 14,600 municipalities, released Tuesday a study saying administration of the grants "will fail to achieve Congress' primary goal of controlling crime on the streets of urban high crime areas."

"Instead of focusing dollars on the critical problems of crime in the streets," it said, "local planning funds are being dissipated broadly without regard to need and are being used to finance third levels of bureaucracy as a matter of state administrative convenience."

"Many state allocation formulas favor distribution of a disproportionately large share of the planning funds . . . in rural areas where crime rates are lowest," the report said.

Sen. Roman Hruska, R-Neb., one of the act's sponsors, responded by contending "cities will receive their fair share of funds . . . to meet their urgent law enforcement needs." He said state planning agencies are encouraged to give priority to areas where crime rates are highest.

Under the program supervised by the Law Enforcement Assistance Administration, $19 million was set aside initially to develop comprehensive state plans. Of this, 40 per cent was designated for localities or for regions composed of combinations of communities.

Another $29 million is being distributed this fiscal year under the various state plans. At least 75 per cent of the $29 million must, under the Safe Streets Act, go either to individual communities or regions.

While the bill was before Congress, the league sought to have the money channeled directly to municipalities rather than through the states.

Wellsville Man Among 8 Treated At City Hospital

A Wellsville man who suffered partial amputations to several fingers while at work was listed "satisfactory" today at City Hospital, where seven others were treated Tuesday.

Arliss Howell of 411 Aten Ave. received the injury when his fingers became caught in a pulley at the H. K. Porter Co.

Treated Tuesday were David Englert, son of Mrs. Harold O'Hanlon of Minnesota Ave., a laceration of the right leg in a fall against a bleacher at school; Luther Adkins, son of Alpha Adkins of Lisbon St., a fractured right thumb while playing basketball.

Norman Richards of 3rd Ave., LaCroft, an employe of the Nickles Bakery Co., a laceration of the right third finger on a crankshaft box at work; Lawrence Andrews Jr. of 937 Phoenix Ave., Chester, a sprain of the right ankle while playing basketball.

Daniel Hitt, son of Daniel Hitt of 211 7th St., Wellsville, a fractured left ankle while playing; Sherry Thorne, daughter of Donald Thorne of 9th Ave., LaCroft, a fractured left foot on a trampoline at school, and Richard Stoll, son of Donald Stoll of Rogers RD 1, a fractured nose when hit by a baseball.

ROAST PORK, HAWAIIAN

Place a TableRite pork roast, rib or loin end, on large piece of heavy aluminum foil. Sprinkle with salt, pepper, Ac'cent and oregano. Drizzle with soy sauce and arrange one unpeeled, scrubbed sweet potato per person around pork. Over all, distribute one flat can crushed pineapple, ½ cup water and 4 lettuce leaves. Bring foil up around meat, seal tightly and let stand, turning occasionally, 2 hours. Place in roast pan fat side up, roast in 475° preheated oven 45 min. Lower heat to 350°, cook till tender. Size of roast determines length of cooking. Serve hot, accompanied by grilled bananas, pineapple chunks, cabbage (cooked 8 minutes), rolls and dessert of your choice.

GAO Says Johnson Failed

Nixon Urged To 'Weld' Fragmented Poverty Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — A government watchdog agency has urged President Nixon to do what it says President Johnson failed to do—weld together the fragmented federal antipoverty efforts.

The General Accounting Office, in its 228-page report on the tribulations of the Office of Economic Opportunity, recommended creation of an "Office of Human Resources" at the White House level "to carry out the planning, coordination and evaluation of all federally-assisted antipoverty efforts."

Antipoverty Legislation lodged the coordinating responsibilities with OEO. And that, said the report which took 14 months and more than $1 million for Congress' auditing arm to complete, was "unrealistic."

Needed, said the report—which focused on administrative difficulties and failings in the Johnson-created agency—is a new office which would have the "full support" of the President.

Congress gave OEO responsibility for coordinating the various governmental antipoverty measures in 1964, authorizing an Economic Opportunity Council to carry out the task.

"Its restructure by the 90th Congress eliminated the director of OEO as chairman and provided that the council be provided with staff. Since Jan. 1, 1968, the council was never convened by the President. The council, hence has exercised no coordinative influence."

The report also noted that since 1965 OEO has been devising annual national poverty action plans but the effort has had little effect.

"There is no available evidence that the President implemented the plan in decisions relative to legislation or appropriations recommended for education, health, manpower training, social security, housing, urban development or veterans' benefits."

The report recommended that OEO be made an independent agency responsible for programs of an innovative nature, such as community action.

It endorsed the plan already put forward by Nixon to shift programs such as Head Start and the Job Corps to other agencies already carrying out related functions.

Manpower Programs—"The available data showed that most of the manpower programs experienced high early dropout rates which strongly indicated that many enrollees received little or no actual help."

GAO recommended that Congres review the Job Corps, particularly its conservation camp structure, to determine whether it should be retained at current expense levels.

Community Action—"It has been an effective advocate for the poor in many communities . . . It has introduced new or expanded existing services to the poor. However CAP has achieved these ends in lesser measure than was reasonable to expect in relation to the magnitude of the funds expended."

Throughout the report, the GAO mentioned "the difficulties" encountered by OEO, including demand for speed in getting programs started, delays and uncertainties over congressional funding and the problems of working out relationships with other agencies and state and local governments.

"I note with great satisfaction," said Berand M. Harding, acting OEO director, "that contrary to rumors circulating for weeks, GAO found no widespread malfeasance in our program.

"Nor is their evidence of political revolutionaries dominating our program as some of our critics have charged."

In 1960, as workmen put final touches on a million - dollar United States embassy complex at Karachi, Pakistan, a plan to relocate the capital was announced.

Defense Opens Its Case Today In Arts Robbery

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP) — The defense was expected to begin its case today in the trial of three men and a woman accused of conspiring to transport across state lines more than $1.5 million in art objects stolen from a Bradford, Pa. home.

The government ended its case Tuesday with the testimony of FBI Special Agent Francis G. Conners who told the court that police used the 16 art objects to try to trap the thieves, but no one ever took their bait.

The 15 paintings and two sculptures were stolen on Aug. 21 from the home of T. Edward Hanley, an oil millionaire. They were recovered from a utility company shack near Kane, Pa. on Aug. 29.

No arrest were made in the case until Oct. 25 when the FBI picked up the defendants in their Buffalo homes.

On trial are Russell DiCicco, 38, his wife, Rene, 41; Gregory Parness, 22, and Louis Mavrakis, 22.

Deputy Investigates Breaking Into Home

A breaking and entering was investigated at the residence of Jennie Eckert on the State Line Rd., East Liverpool RD, Tuesday.

Sheriff's Deputy Robert Wellington said drawers were ransacked in three rooms, but the owner could find nothing missing.

Wellington investigated in response to a call at 4:57 p.m. from East Liverpool police. He said entry was made through an unlocked overhead door into a basement garage.

Pennsylvania Assembly Eyes 18 Or 19 Voting Age

HARRISBURG (AP) — The General Assembly appears strongly committed to lowering the minimum voting age in Pennsylvania but cannot decide whether that age should be 18 or 19.

The House gave its overwhelming approval Tuesday to a proposed constitutional amendment that would grant suffrage to citizens of the Commonwealth 19 and older. The vote was 158-37.

Three weeks ago, the Senate passed legislation proposing that the right to vote be extended to those persons 18 years and up. The roll call in the Senate was 36-9.

Both proposals would require legislative approval not lnly this session but again in either 1971 or 1972 before being placed on the ballot for a vote of the people.

Key senators have indicated they could support the House bill, and important members of the House said the Senate version was acceptable to them.

House action on the voting issue highlighted the day's activities in the General Assembly. There were these other developments:

— The House Education Committee released to the floor an extremely controversial bill to increase state financial aid to private and parochial schools.

— Gov. Shafer's proposal to give public employes the right of collective bargaining was introduced in the Senate with Republican sponsorship.

The House debated for 90 minutes on the voting age bill with proponents stressing that the question ultimately would be decided by the electorate and not the legislature.

"I think the electorate should be given the opportunity to decide this issue," said Rep. John S. Renninger, R-Bucks. "The people have two years to argue the pros and cons."

The news from Promontory, Utah on May 10, 1869, was that "The last rail is laid, the last spike driven. The Pacific railroad is completed."

Fired Workers Picket; Moore May Face Suit

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP) — Fired State Road Commission maintenance workers continued to pick the State Capitol today while their union leaders prepare a Federal suit against Gov. Arch Moore Jr.

The suit is expected to challenge the constitutionality of Moore's recent mass firing of some 3,300 striking SRC workers.

Lyle Kirker, business manager of the Laborers District Council which has been trying to bargain for the SRC workers, met with Moore Tuesday but reported little progress.

"My discussion with Gov. Moore led to no conclusion to the SRC employes' walkout," he said upon emerging from the meeting. He added, however, that the picketing which began last week would continue.

Local Post Hits Plans To Honor Japanese Officer

The action was taken during Monday night's meeting.

David Robbins was obligated as a member by Louis Krawiec, chaplain, and a past commander of the post.

Members voted to again hold the annual family picnic at Valley Park.

Tom Davidson, second vice commander, reported that the Legion county traveling bowling league will hold its banquet May 17 at Post 374. Vince McGeehan, bowling chairman, reported that next month will be the last session of the season at College Lanes in Alliance.

New chairs have been purchased, Wayne Dorsey, a trustee, reported.

Reports were heard on the County Council meeting in Lisbon attended by Davidson. Harry Dawson Sr., a post trustee, underwent surgery at City Hospital, James Wallover, service officer, announced. Thirty-five attended the meeting.

County Cautions Trash Haulers

LISBON — Licensed trash haulers or private haulers who do not cover their loads and permit debris and trash to bounce or blow onto the highway are subject to penalties, according to Harry Stockdale, Columbiana County Health Department sanitarian.

Licensed haulers face loss of license and private haulers are subject to prosecution and fines if they are found littering the roads.

Stockdale said George Dunn, Madison Township trustee, complained recently that the Y. & O. Rd. is littered with material from trucks going to the East Liverpool dump in Madison Township. Stockdale said only two or three of the licensed haulers in the East Liverpool area have uncovered trucks.

The sanitarian said the County Health Department cannot police the road, but will prosecute litterers if witnesses furnish the facts and give the truck license number.

Wire Guild Threatens Strike Against UPI

NEW YORK (AP) — Members of the Wire Service Guild, AFL-CIO, have voted to authorize a strike against United Press International, the union says.

A strike has not been called. The UPI-Guild contract was extended at its expiration at midnight Saturday, and negotiations resume today in New York under supervision of federal mediators.

UPI said it would continue operations in event of a strike.

The Guild is seeking a three-year contract with a top minimum salary of $260 a week. UPI has offered a top minimum of $250 weekly. Current top minimum is $212. Other contract provisions also are unsettled.

The American dollar owes its name to the Counts of Schlick who mined silver at Joachimstal, Bohemia, in 1518. Their coins became known as Joachimstaler, later just taler. From this came the Dutch daler and United States dollar.

GAO Says Johnson Failed

Nixon Urged To 'Weld' Fragmented Poverty Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — A government watchdog agency has urged President Nixon to do what it says President Johnson failed to do—weld together the fragmented federal antipoverty efforts.

The General Accounting Office, in its 228-page report on the tribulations of the Office of Economic Opportunity, recommended creation of an "Office of Human Resources" at the White House level "to carry out the planning, coordination and evaluation of all federally-assisted antipoverty efforts."

Antipoverty Legislation lodged the coordinating responsibilities with OEO. And that, said the report which took 14 months and more than $1 million for Congress' auditing arm to complete, was "unrealistic."

Needed, said the report—which focused on administrative difficulties and failings in the Johnson-created agency—is a new office which would have the "full support" of the President.

Congress gave OEO responsibility for coordinating the various governmental antipoverty measures in 1964, authorizing an Economic Opportunity Council to carry out the task.

"Its restructure by the 90th Congress eliminated the director of OEO as chairman and provided that the council be provided with staff. Since Jan. 1, 1968, the council was never convened by the President. The council, hence has exercised no coordinative influence."

The report also noted that since 1965 OEO has been devising annual national poverty action plans but the effort has had little effect.

"There is no available evidence that the President implemented the plan in decisions relative to legislation or appropriations recommended for education, health, manpower training, social security, housing, urban development or veterans' benefits."

The report recommended that OEO be made an independent agency responsible for programs of an innovative nature, such as community action.

It endorsed the plan already put forward by Nixon to shift programs such as Head Start and the Job Corps to other agencies already carrying out related functions.

Manpower Programs—"The available data showed that most of the manpower programs experienced high early dropout rates which strongly indicated that many enrollees received little or no actual help."

GAO recommended that Congres review the Job Corps, particularly its conservation camp structure, to determine whether it should be retained at current expense levels.

Community Action—"It has been an effective advocate for the poor in many communities . . . It has introduced new or expanded existing services to the poor. However CAP has achieved these ends in lesser measure than was reasonable to expect in relation to the magnitude of the funds expended."

Throughout the report, the GAO mentioned "the difficulties" encountered by OEO, including demand for speed in getting programs started, delays and uncertainties over congressional funding and the problems of working out relationships with other agencies and state and local governments.

"I note with great satisfaction," said Berand M. Harding, acting OEO director, "that contrary to rumors circulating for weeks, GAO found no widespread malfeasance in our program.

"Nor is their evidence of political revolutionaries dominating our program as some of our critics have charged."

In 1960, as workmen put final touches on a million - dollar United States embassy complex at Karachi, Pakistan, a plan to relocate the capital was announced.

Defense Opens Its Case Today In Arts Robbery

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP) — The defense was expected to begin its case today in the trial of three men and a woman accused of conspiring to transport across state lines more than $1.5 million in art objects stolen from a Bradford, Pa. home.

The government ended its case Tuesday with the testimony of FBI Special Agent Francis G. Conners who told the court that police used the 16 art objects to try to trap the thieves, but no one ever took their bait.

The 15 paintings and two sculptures were stolen on Aug. 21 from the home of T. Edward Hanley, an oil millionaire. They were recovered from a utility company shack near Kane, Pa. on Aug. 29.

No arrest were made in the case until Oct. 25 when the FBI picked up the defendants in their Buffalo homes.

On trial are Russell DiCicco, 38, his wife, Rene, 41; Gregory Parness, 22, and Louis Mavrakis, 22.

Deputy Investigates Breaking Into Home

A breaking and entering was investigated at the residence of Jennie Eckert on the State Line Rd., East Liverpool RD, Tuesday.

Sheriff's Deputy Robert Wellington said drawers were ransacked in three rooms, but the owner could find nothing missing.

Wellington investigated in response to a call at 4:57 p.m. from East Liverpool police. He said entry was made through an unlocked overhead door into a basement garage.

Pennsylvania Assembly Eyes 18 Or 19 Voting Age

HARRISBURG (AP) — The General Assembly appears strongly committed to lowering the minimum voting age in Pennsylvania but cannot decide whether that age should be 18 or 19.

The House gave its overwhelming approval Tuesday to a proposed constitutional amendment that would grant suffrage to citizens of the Commonwealth 19 and older. The vote was 158-37.

Three weeks ago, the Senate passed legislation proposing that the right to vote be extended to those persons 18 years and up. The roll call in the Senate was 36-9.

Both proposals would require legislative approval not lnly this session but again in either 1971 or 1972 before being placed on the ballot for a vote of the people.

Key senators have indicated they could support the House bill, and important members of the House said the Senate version was acceptable to them.

House action on the voting issue highlighted the day's activities in the General Assembly. There were these other developments:

— The House Education Committee released to the floor an extremely controversial bill to increase state financial aid to private and parochial schools.

— Gov. Shafer's proposal to give public employes the right of collective bargaining was introduced in the Senate with Republican sponsorship.

The House debated for 90 minutes on the voting age bill with proponents stressing that the question ultimately would be decided by the electorate and not the legislature.

"I think the electorate should be given the opportunity to decide this issue," said Rep. John S. Renninger, R-Bucks. "The people have two years to argue the pros and cons."

The news from Promontory, Utah on May 10, 1869, was that "The last rail is laid, the last spike driven. The Pacific railroad is completed."

Fired Workers Picket; Moore May Face Suit

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP) — Fired State Road Commission maintenance workers continued to pick the State Capitol today while their union leaders prepare a Federal suit against Gov. Arch Moore Jr.

The suit is expected to challenge the constitutionality of Moore's recent mass firing of some 3,300 striking SRC workers.

Lyle Kirker, business manager of the Laborers District Council which has been trying to bargain for the SRC workers, met with Moore Tuesday but reported little progress.

"My discussion with Gov. Moore led to no conclusion to the SRC employes' walkout," he said upon emerging from the meeting. He added, however, that the picketing which began last week would continue.

Local Post Hits Plans To Honor Japanese Officer

American Legion Post 374 has gone on record as opposing the Navy Department's plan to honor a Japanese military leader reportedly one of the planners of the attack on Pearl Harbor.

The action was taken during Monday night's meeting.

David Robbins was obligated as a member by Louis Krawiec, chaplain, and a past commander of the post.

Members voted to again hold the annual family picnic at Valley Park.

Tom Davidson, second vice commander, reported that the Legion county traveling bowling league will hold its banquet May 17 at Post 374. Vince McGeehan, bowling chairman, reported that next month will be the last session of the season at College Lanes in Alliance.

New chairs have been purchased, Wayne Dorsey, a trustee, reported.

Reports were heard on the County Council meeting in Lisbon attended by Davidson. Harry Dawson Sr., a post trustee, underwent surgery at City Hospital, James Wallover, service officer, announced. Thirty-five attended the meeting.

County Cautions Trash Haulers

LISBON — Licensed trash haulers or private haulers who do not cover their loads and permit debris and trash to bounce or blow onto the highway are subject to penalties, according to Harry Stockdale, Columbiana County Health Department sanitarian.

Licensed haulers face loss of license and private haulers are subject to prosecution and fines if they are found littering the roads.

Stockdale said George Dunn, Madison Township trustee, complained recently that the Y. & O. Rd. is littered with material from trucks going to the East Liverpool dump in Madison Township. Stockdale said only two or three of the licensed haulers in the East Liverpool area have uncovered trucks.

The sanitarian said the County Health Department cannot police the road, but will prosecute litterers if witnesses furnish the facts and give the truck license number.

Wire Guild Threatens Strike Against UPI

NEW YORK (AP) — Members of the Wire Service Guild, AFL-CIO, have voted to authorize a strike against United Press International, the union says.

A strike has not been called. The UPI-Guild contract was extended at its expiration at midnight Saturday, and negotiations resume today in New York under supervision of federal mediators.

UPI said it would continue operations in event of a strike.

The Guild is seeking a three-year contract with a top minimum salary of $260 a week. UPI has offered a top minimum of $250 weekly. Current top minimum is $212. Other contract provisions also are unsettled.

The American dollar owes its name to the Counts of Schlick who mined silver at Joachimstal, Bohemia, in 1518. Their coins became known as Joachimstaler, later just taler. From this came the Dutch daler and United States dollar.

Junior Editors Quiz on BUCCANEERS

QUESTION: Where did the buccaneers come from?

* * *

ANSWER: In the early 1600's, most colonists had left the West Indian Island of Hispaniola because of the harsh rule of the Spaniards. There were cattle and pigs on the island. The few settlers developed a way of curing meat without salting, called boucanning. It was against Spanish law to sell such meat to passing ships, but many smugglers and rough characters united to do this. Many of these — English, French, Dutch and Portuguese settlers — were united against the Spaniards. Since they had learned to boucan meat, they came to be called buccaneers. So, when these people sailed out to attack some Spanish treasure ship, as they are shown doing in our picture, they had the excuse of fighting their countries' enemies. But they became ever more savage and cruel, attacking towns as well as ships. When, in 1670, England made a treaty with Spain, the buccaneers had no legal excuse left for their violence. Many became out-and-out pirates, and were finally hunted down and destroyed.

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q.—What can I do when whipping cream looks as though it is not going to whip?

A. — Add three or four drops of lemon juice or a bit of plain gelatin powder to it.

Q. — How can I prevent tangles when knitting with two balls of yarn?

A. — By putting the ends of each ball through paper straws before you begin your knitting job.

Q. — How can I reshape some of my old, worn - out paintbrushes?

A. — Soak the bristles in a water - soluble glue, shape, allow to dry thoroughly. Then rub the bristle tip over coarse sandpaper to the shape desired. Finally remove the glue by setting the brush in hot water.

Q. — What is an easy way to make my kitchen sink sparkling white?

A.—Put a layer of paper towels over the bottom of your sink, soak these papers with ordinary household bleach, leave the soggy towels on for about a half - hour, then remove and admire your glistening, spotless sink.
